Take Serious View On Russian Plans For Army in Iran

Britain Expected to State Attitude Shortly on Moscow Announcement

LONDON, March 1 (Reuters).—Official quarters in London take an extremely serious view of the decision announced today by Moscow radio to keep Soviet troops in Iran after March 2, the date by which they were due to be withdrawn under the terms of the Tri-Partite Pact of 1942.

It is understood the matter will be taken up through diplomatic channels and that Britain will shortly state her attitude.

Russia said today that she would keep Red Army forces in "disturbed" areas of Iran "until the clearance of the situation," making only a partial withdrawal.

Under the Treaty of Alliance signed in Tehran, January 29, 1942, both Britain and the Soviet Union undertook to withdraw their forces from Iran six months after the conclusion of an armistice with the last Axis power left in the field.

The announcement that Russian troops are remaining, except in certain eastern districts, pending clarification of the situation, caused general surprise in London where it is considered the treaty position is entirely straight-forward.

Decision of the Soviet Government to keep troops in Persia for the present is considered by London observers to be the more surprising for other reasons.

1. The Soviet reply to the United States note on withdrawal of troops from Iran dated November 29, 1945, stated: "The Government of the U.S.S.R. is guided strictly by the time limits established in that treaty (the pact of 1942) for the stationing of its troops in Iran."

2. The Soviet Government at last month's meeting of the United States Security Council showed great concern for the ethics which should govern stationing of troops on the soil of a foreign power and itself laid down strict conditions in which it considered such disposition-ing permissible.

TEHRAN, March 1 (AP).—Russian troops began pulling out of some Iranian towns today just 24 hours before the deadline for them to leave Iran under terms of a Big Three agreement with the Iranian Government.

Up to last night there had been no evidence in Northern Iran, where the Russians had an estimated 40,000 to 80,000 troops, that the withdrawal of troops had started.

From Europe Day by Day—

THE TIMES, London

News and Comment on Foreign and National Events selected from The Times daily and published in The Daily Colonist by special arrangement with The Vancouver Daily Province.

LONDON, March 1.—Commenting on the production drive announced in Commons this week by Prime Minister Attlee, The Times declares that the only sure means of increasing the workers' share of the product of industry without intolerable dislocation and friction is to relate wage advances to improvements in output, so that the worker receives a growing share of what he is able to add to the present volume of production.

Referring to Herbert Morrison's statement in the House the Parliament aims at enlarging the workers' share of the national income, The Times declares that even if this aim is admitted, the Government's methods are not clear.

Unco-ordinated pressure for wage increases combined with price and profit controls may achieve the desired end, but effects on private enterprise and on distribution of wages between workers in different trades need to be considered.

An expanding share of an expanding cake, rather than an expanded share now of a cake which may hereafter be enlarged, is the legitimate aim.

Commenting on the latest word from Java, The Times declares it is plain that many of the difficulties facing Sir Archibald Clark Kerr derive from political inexperience of certain Nationalist leaders who seem to live in a world all their own, bearing no relation to realities of international affairs.

In their enthusiasm for independence they ignore the necessity for Dutch assistance in founding a firm, well-grounded modern state and shut their eyes to what actually is happening around them.

See Outlook In Finance Optimistic

Minister of Finance Speaks on Situation

TORONTO, March 1 (CP). — The international financial outlook from the Canadian point of view gives "grounds for guarded optimism and for continued vigilance," Finance Minister Ilsley said tonight.

In a speech prepared for delivery before the Institute of Chartered Accountants of Ontario, Mr. Ilsley said there was ground for optimism in the fact the majority of nations had accepted the Bretton Woods international monetary agreements.

"Another ground for optimism is that ways and means are being found of helping to supply the import deficiencies of the United Kingdom and Western Europe during the transitional period," he said.

"For every reason, vigilance is imposed by the exposed position of the Canadian economy and the continued uncertainties in the world outlook."

In his review of the international financial situation as it affects Canada, Mr. Ilsley made these points:

1. Legislation to put foreign exchange control in Canada on a statutory basis will be introduced at the coming session of Parliament.

2. Refusal of the United States and Canada to provide loans to Britain at this time would eventually lead to economic warfare in international trade.

3. He hoped the Bretton Woods international fund and the international bank would be in operation by the end of this year.

Continuation of foreign exchange control was necessary because of the uncertainties of the world situation.

No Ottawa Ruling On Daylight Time

OTTAWA, March 1 (CP).—Daylight-saving time now is a matter for the provincial governments and municipalities to decide, a Federal official said tonight commenting on a statement by Mayor J. W. Cornett, of Vancouver, that daylight-saving should be nationwide.

Federal regulation of daylight-saving time as a power conservation measure in wartime ended last September 30. The Ottawa official said it was "most unlikely" that the Dominion Government would be concerned with daylight time except in an emergency, and that any peacetime action would require a special act of Parliament.

U.S. Disputes Soviet Action in Manchuria

WASHINGTON, March 1 (AP).—In a speedy development of Secretary Byrnes' new policy of plain speaking, the State Department declared today that Russia had no right under any Allied agreement to remove industrial equipment from former Japanese-held Manchuria.

The action appeared tantamount to a rebuke to Russia. A Soviet commander had announced at Mukden earlier this week that machinery had been removed in accordance with what he called a Big Three agreement, though he said he could not remember when or where it was made.

The statement regarding Japanese assets in Manchuria follows:

"The United States has no agreement, secret or otherwise, with the Soviet Government in regard to war booty in Manchuria.

"This Government does not accept any interpretation of 'war booty' to include industrial enterprises or the components thereof such as Japanese industry and equipment in Manchuria.

"Some time ago we informed the Soviet Government that disposal of Japanese external assets, such as the industries in Manchuria, was a matter of common interest and concern to those Allies who bore the major burden in defeating Japan and that it would be most inappropriate at this time to make any final disposition of Japanese external assets in Manchuria either by removal from Manchuria of such industrial assets as 'war booty' or by agreement between the Soviet and Chinese Governments for the control of those assets.

"This Government has recently initiated discussions with other Governments principally concerned with reparations from Japan with respect to final disposition of Japanese external assets."

Crerar Concludes 35-Year Career

OTTAWA, March 1 (CP).—Retirement of Gen. H. D. G. Crerar, 57, C.H., C.B., D.S.O., of Hamilton, who led the Canadian First Army throughout the campaign in Europe, was announced today by Defence Minister Abbott.

A statement said he would proceed on leave pending retirement after a 35-year career in the Canadian Army. He became the first native Canadian to gain the rank of full general on active service at the front.

Little more than a year ago he threw one of the largest armies in history against the northern flank of the Siegfried Line. His command of some 500,000 embraced the Canadian Army and a large part of the British Second Army.

The United States Has Now Proposed a Joint Note to Spain From Britain, United States and France to Deal With the Spanish Situation.

Exiles Seek To Form Government

Republicans Prepare For Spanish Change

LONDON, March 1 (CP).—Exiled Spanish Republican leaders are striving to form a Coalition Government which could take over Spain if and when Franco goes, but from the British viewpoint formation of a "caretaker" administration is one of the biggest problems in the Spanish issue.

One British authority said Republican leaders are having trouble agreeing among themselves—"they suffer from what we call exilitis, a political disease which affected other exiled leaders before this when the time came for them to form governments."

The British Government is still studying a United States proposal on Spain—to publish captured German documents showing Franco's complicity with Hitler and Mussolini; to make a declaration of a desire to see Franco out of power, and to see a caretaker government established under conditions of democratic freedom.

There seems a good possibility that Britain will co-operate with the United States and Franco along these lines, although the French plan to bring the Spanish question before the United Nations Security Council in New York in March also is being considered.

Meanwhile, in Paris, Jose Giral, premier of the exiled Spanish Government since last August when it was reformed in Mexico City, said the Republicans are forming a government ready to take over Spain, but Giral himself is not a dominant political figure.

Means Test for Old Age Pensions Draws Protest

The "dastardly, abominable" means test qualification for old age pensions drew fiery protests from the Legislature's sole independent member, veteran Tom Uphill (Labor, Fernie), yesterday afternoon.

The Legislature's oldest member—he has 26 years' representation of Fernie to his credit—with his inimitable Irish humor, put color into the continuation of the main debate.

Pleading the cause of old age pensioners, he declared that at a time when every organization in the country had gone on record to help out the aged, he could not understand why Governments did not listen to public opinion.

The amount of labor and time involved in completing the means test was far in excess of any trifling saving that might be effected, he said.

People who reached pensionable age were easily hurt and would rather go without the pension than submit themselves to the indignity of the test. The province should demand its abolition. He appealed for an increase in amounts of pensions.

Supporting the demands of the United Mine Workers of America for betterment of conditions of work in the mines, the Fernie member said insecurity in the industry and present conditions of work were driving miners into other occupations, so that workers were not available to develop the province's great coal resources.

Pressing for improvement of the road connecting Fernie and Roosville, Mont., Mr. Uphill said the Interstate Road Commission in Montana was all ready to hard-surface its part of the road if it could get

Wives to Visit Detained Men

OTTAWA, March 1 (CP). — The Justice Department stated today that wives of men detained in Canada's espionage inquiry would be allowed to see them Monday.

Meanwhile, reliable reports indicated the two-man Royal Commission was proceeding rapidly with its investigation.

The official said the privilege would not be extended to lawyers retained as legal counsel.

Previously, the detainees could only write letters.

As the inquiry entered its third week, there were indications that Mr. Justices R. L. Kellock and Robert Taschereau were receiving co-operation from at least some of those under questioning.

MONTREAL, March 1 (CP).—The Canadian Association of Scientific Workers tonight protested the detention and treatment of "an eminent Canadian scientist," who is a "prominent member" of the association, in connection with the Government's espionage investigation.

A statement issued by the national executive of the association said: "We protest most vehemently both the manner of his arrest and his subsequent treatment and therefore demand that he be allowed immediate access to counsel."

U.S. Warned Must Take Peace Lead

Big Five Veto Right Opposed by Pearson

BRONXVILLE, N.Y., March 1 (CP). —L. B. Pearson said tonight that the United States must take the lead in organizing the world for peace.

"It has the power, it must accept the responsibility. If it does not, there is literally no hope for humanity," the Canadian Ambassador to the United States said.

Mr. Pearson, who has played a large part in writing the charter of the United Nations and in other United Nations activities, expressed opposition to the veto power enjoyed in the Security Council by the Big Five.

If the United Nations is to succeed it must be in a position to make war, but only as an international policeman, and against all aggressors, not just a few according to the decision of one big power, he said.

"This means, of course, abandonment by the great powers of the right to veto over decisions of the Security Council . . . If the United Nations is to preserve peace and prevent aggression the veto will ultimately have to go by decree or custom."

Collective security would necessitate surrender in some degree of the cherished sovereignt, of nations, he said.

"Nationalism as such, need not be any obstacle to the organization of peace on an international basis.

"It will become such an obstacle, however, if we pervert it into a narrow, suspicious and exclusive dogma which injured even its own people in the name of the ideal it proclaims—into the kind of nationalism which sees in the acquisition of a base for one's own state a justifiable, defensive, peace-loving move, but can see in such an acquisition by another country only blatant, aggressive imperialism; the kind of nationalism which calls it 'securing intelligence' when you do it, but 'spying' when anybody else does it."

Big Landslide Roars Down Eagle Heights

DUNCAN, Feb. 29.—Tons of water-soaked clay and rocks crashed down from Eagle Heights, one mile south of Duncan, this afternoon, smashing three small buildings and a water tank and piling debris in the back yard of Mrs. M. C. Ford, Island Highway. The roar of the slide was heard in Duncan.

No damage was done to the Ford residence, but a heavy timber stopped within a couple of feet of a window and the roof of one of the smashed buildings came to a halt in a garden beside the house. A flag standard was snapped off on the property of A. R. Mann, Eagle Heights.

The smashed buildings were unoccupied at the time of the slide.

Although small slides are continuing, houses overlooking Cowichan Bay from the top of Eagle Heights are reported to be in no immediate danger.

Erosion caused by heavy rains is given as the cause of the slide.

Report to Council Flays Inefficiency Of Administration

Business Analyst Recommends Complete Survey Be Undertaken, Costing $10,000

Civic administration in Victoria is pervaded by "flagrant inefficiency" and an attitude of "the public be hanged," Ernest P. Mather, business analyst, declared to members of the City Council at a meeting in committee yesterday afternoon.

When asked by members of the City Council to give his honest opinion of the state of affairs at the City Hall, Mr. Mather replied:

"In a long time I haven't been in a place that had such an unpleasant aroma—because of flagrant inefficiency—as this city hall."

Overlapping jobs, poor delineation of authority, inequalities in pay, indifference to the public, poor layout and lack of co-ordination among the various civic departments were some of the reasons for the inefficiency, Mr. Mather said.

A business analyst from the United States firm of George S. May Company, Chicago and San Francisco, Mr. Mather concluded a three-day survey of the civic administration last Saturday. The survey was made at the request of a special committee headed by Alderman H. M. Diggon.

When the general nature of the findings was brought to the attention of Mayor Percy E. George, he called a special meeting of the committee of the whole of the City Council for yesterday afternoon, in order that all members of the council might be appraised of the results.

Americans Fired On By Russians

Navy Seaplane Back Safe at China Base

WASHINGTON, March 1 (AP).—The Navy Department tonight confirmed that Russian fighter planes fired on a United States Navy plane, February 20, and said it is protesting to the Soviet Government.

The American plane, which was not hit, returned to its base at Tsingtao, China.

This incident took place after the pilot of the Mariner, contrary to orders, the Navy said, had gone inland from the coast. Disciplinary action is being taken against the pilot, the announcement added.

This is not the first time that a Navy plane has been fired on by Russian fighters, it was stated. A previous incident occurred last October, beyond the three-mile limit of Port Arthur, and the Navy protested this "hostile act" to the Soviet Government.

Government officials earlier received this account of the February incident.

The pilot, believing he was over a Chinese city, "buzzed" the Russian air base. Soviet fighter planes gave chase as he pulled away from the field.

Overtaking the patrol craft between Port Arthur and Chanshan Island, the Russians opened fire and shot away the American plane's aerial and made other hits. The Navy plane did not return the fire and either eluded the Russians or the Soviet flyers gave up the chase.

Winston Churchill Receives Friends

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., March 1 (AP). —Winston Churchill, ending a six-weeks' vacation in South Florida, received more than 300 persons tonight before departing for Washington to meet President Truman and then journey west to Fulton, Mo., to make an address at Westminster College.

For 55 minutes, the British war leader amiably shook hands and welcomed the long queue of acquaintances he had met during his stay at the Florida home of Col. Frank Clarke, of Quebec City.

Mayor Denies Any Part In Chlorination Decision

Mayor Percy E. George yesterday disclaimed any connection with a joint decision of the Health Board and the City Water Board to recommend to the City Council Monday that the Federal Government be asked to continue chlorination of Victoria water for another year on the same basis as at the present time.

"I was not told of this meeting by the chairman of the water board and did not attend," Mayor George declared. "I am deeply concerned that this decision should have been taken in my absence."

Alderman J. D. Hunter, chairman of the health committee, said he deeply regretted that the announcement had been made. He said he had been informed that the mayor was invited to attend and was unable to come.

The announcement said a recommendation would be made suggesting that the council write to Hon. Brooke Claxton, Minister of Health, and R. W. Mayhew, M.P., requesting that chlorination be continued at the expense of the Dominion.

Chlorination was started during the war as a protective measure for troops here, with the Dominion Government installing the equipment and paying all costs.

In response to an inquiry from Mayor George a short time ago, Federal authorities said March 31 had been set as a tentative date for discontinuing chlorination, subject to consideration of the wishes of the city and the number of troops still in the area.

It is thought the Government intends to offer the city the equipment at nominal cost when the Dominion decides to discontinue paying the cost of operation, which amounts to $7,000 a year.

At the present time analysts in Seattle and Vancouver are testing samples of Victoria water before and after chlorination and will report on whether bacteria is present.

Dr. Richard Felton, medical health officer, and Dr. J. L. Murray Anderson, assistant health officer, are in charge of compiling a report from the findings of the analysts.

"Eat Less" Drive Starts

WASHINGTON, March 1 (AP).—Agriculture Secretary Anderson announced tonight a national "famine emergency committee" with former President Herbert Hoover as honorary chairman would conduct an "eat less" food campaign in the United States to help the hungry abroad.

The announcement followed a White House conference attended by Mr. Hoover; Chester Davis, former war food administrator; Commerce Secretary Wallace, the assistant secretary of state; W. L. Clayton and a dozen private citizens.

The conference adopted a resolution declaring that more could be done to save food by voluntary self-rationing than by a system of Government rationing orders.

Municipalities Ask for Return of Revenue to Carry Mounting Costs

Suggesting a reversal of existing policy, the executive of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities in a meeting with the Provincial Cabinet yesterday urged that municipalities should have returned to them the proportion of liquor profits, pari-mutuel taxes and motor tax and other forms of direct income which might reasonably be transferred.

"What difference will it make if these funds are spent by central government or through delegated authority of municipalities for the same purpose?", Mayor N. C. Stibbs, Nelson, president of the union, asked the Cabinet.

The delegation urged further that the British North America Act should be amended to give municipalities a constitutional status similar to that enjoyed by the provinces, giving them clearly defined rights and powers.

The municipalities, it was claimed, could not much longer continue to support a constantly expanding range of services on a constantly shrinking income.

The question of unemployment and fear of retirement could be overcome by a contributing pension to supply $50 a month at age 65 without the means test, Mayor Stibbs admitted. This would not penalize the thrifty, he said.

Several resolutions passed by the Union's convention at Qualicum Beach last September were presented to the Cabinet and discussed.

Mayor P. E. George, Victoria, acted as spokesman on two of the resolutions asking the Government to modify its succession duty policy, and to take responsibility for illegitimate children born in this province of mothers who were residents of other provinces.

Loans of the Victory Loan type to provide cheap money for rehabilitation purposes were recommended to Cabinet.

Delegates also pressed for Federal and Provincial contributions to the capital cost of civic centres, and inauguration of a drainage program.

I.O.O.F. Greets War Veterans

Sons, daughters and husbands of members of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows who have returned from service with the armed forces were entertained at a "Welcome Home" reception in the lodge headquarters by Victoria Lodge, No. 1, and Columbia Lodge, No. 2, last evening.

Vernon Whitworth, Vancouver, grand master of the order in British Columbia, was present.

In his welcoming remarks, Alex McCabe, chairman of the committee, recalled this was the third such event held in the same hall. Similar receptions were held for veterans of the Boer War and Great War, he said.

A roll of 145 names was called, and a tribute of one minute's silence was paid those who died in the war.

A short program of songs and instrumental numbers followed, and the evening was concluded with refreshments and dancing.

Purse Snatcher Escapes Pursuit

A purse snatcher, dressed in the uniform of a soldier, last night grabbed a purse containing $5 cash, ration books, registration card, driver's licence, and personal papers from Mrs. J. Bateman, 1027 Queens Avenue, as she was walking past George Jay School, police reported.

Mrs. Bateman said the thief, who appeared to be about 18 years of age, made his escape into the school grounds.

City police, aided by members of the provost corps, searched the district but failed to locate the culprit.

Approve Plans

TACOMA, March 1 (CP).—Consulting engineers gave final approval to plans for the new Tacoma Narrows Bridge, to cost approximately $9,000,000.

Criticize Plans For Blanshard Street Widening

Criticism of plans now before the City Council for widening Blanshard Street, and the formation of four committees for the purpose of bettering harbor, street traffic, public recreation, and civic beautification facilities, high-lighted last night's meeting of the Victoria Town Planning Commission held at the City Hall.

Objections to widening plans for Blanshard Street were minor and confined mainly to suggested boulevards and concrete centre "islands."

Under the chairmanship of Forrest L. Shaw, the commission proposed that boulevards called for on the plans now being considered be done away with entirely, as they posed a definite hazard to the safety of traffic and motorists.

Members of the commission also called for shortening of concrete centre strips suggested for the segregation of traffic lanes on the widened Blanshard Street, contending they were too long and would tend to interfere with traffic moving onto Blanshard from intersecting roadways.

The commission also adopted rules of procedure recommended at their previous meeting and asked for suggestions on a site for a new fire hall.

Committees named, of which Forrest L. Shaw as chairman will be ex-officio member, are as follows:

Harbor and transport committee, dealing with harbor development and improvement, ferry service, railway terminals and routes to Victoria: Fred Butterfield, chairman; Walter Miles, W. E. G. Crisford and Mayor Percy E. George.

Streets and transit committee, for arterial highways and street widening, street railway, buses and street cars, and better distribution of traffic: E. T. Horsey, chairman; H. W. Davey, K.C., T. W. Hawkins and Miss M. Hill.

Waterfront beautification and zoning committee, to study zoning by-laws to determine adequacy of and size of dwelling house lots, sufficiency of commercial light industry and industrial areas to ensure expansion and development and report all amendments to zoning by-law: W. E. G. Crisford, chairman; Miss M. Hill, A. J. Curtis, T. W. Hawkins.

Public recreation and civic activities committee, dealing with parks, playgrounds, swimming pools, civic centre and other public building sites: R. H. B. Ker, chairman; W. E. G. Crisford, Alderman D. D. MacTavish and A. J. Curtis.

City Hall Report

Mr. Mather recommended an analysis of the civic administration to include job evaluation, personnel evaluation and functional relationships of the various jobs and departments. This complete survey and report could be undertaken at a cost of $10,000. Alternatively, the fist two items could be covered for $5,000.

In either case, application of modern methods of business engineering would result in increased efficiency and result in a saving which would more than cover the cost within one year, he said.

He emphasized that none of his comments had any reference to irregularities and must not be construed as a reflection on the honesty or loyalty of civic employees. There were too many square pegs in round holes, and this was not the fault of the individuals, but of a system which had not kept pace with modern developments.

SAYS UNEQUAL PAY SOURCE OF DISSATISFACTION

Inequalities in pay were a source of dissatisfaction among the employees. This was reflected in an "amazing indifference" to the public who came to do business at the City Hall.

Little thought had been given to the convenience of the public in laying out the various departments.

"The public has plenty of reason not to be pleased from all I have seen," Mr. Mather declared. "They come in here; they don't know where to go; they have to run all over the building and up and down stairs in order to transact simple business."

WOULD PLACE RIGHT PEOPLE IN RIGHT JOBS

Object of making an analysis was to find out the nature and qualifications for each job, to place the right people in the right jobs, to provide a schedule of wages, and to organize various departments and their relationship to one another in keeping with modern business practice.

Asked by the council to comment on the proposed analysis, D. A. Macdonald, city controller, said a survey had been made in 1943 and if the City Council did nothing more with results of Mr. Mather's report than they had done previously, little would be accomplished.

Alderman Edward Williams pointed out that the council had not agreed with the 1943 report and had thrown it out.

"We can do the same with this one if we don't like it," he added.

The council decided the matter would be discussed further before any action was taken on engaging the company to make a survey.

Recover Philippines Treasure Hidden in Bay

Lieut. J. H. McDonald, U.S.N. (left), of Hochnes, Colo., shovels silver pesos recovered from the bottom of Manila Bay, off Corregidor, Philippines, into a bag held by Lieut. J. C. Patterson, U.S.N.R., of Billings, Mont., as chief gunner's mate, A. K. Wright, of St. Paul, Minn., one of the navy salvage divers, looks on. The huge fortune in pesos, 17,000,000 of them, were dropped at the bottom of the bay in 1942 by Filipino Government agents to prevent seizure by the Japanese invaders. Navy divers have already recovered nearly 2,000,000 pesos, working 118 feet below the surface.

Nazi Report on Dieppe Raid Gives Praise to Commandos

TORONTO, March 1 (CP).—The German Army intelligence in its secret report on and assessment of the Canadian 2nd Division's August, 1942, raid on Dieppe criticized the planning behind the operation and the Canadians' combat efficiency, an article by L. S. B. Shapiro, European correspondent, which appears in Maclean's Magazine said today.

Of the planning, the story quotes the report of the German 81st Corps Intelligence: "The undertaking was prepared most conscientiously. The operation order is very detailed (121 typewritten pages) and therefore difficult to visualize as a whole. The planning, down to the last detail, limits the independence of action of the subordinate officer and leaves him no opportunity to make independent decisions in an altered situation."

Dealing with combat efficiency the report went on: "The Canadian 2nd Division had lain for quite some time in the south of England, most of the time in camps . . . the Canadians on the whole fought badly and surrendered afterwards in swarms. On the other hand the combat efficiency of the Commandos was very high."

The report, analyzing "the great British (Canadian) failure" said: "The British (Canadians) completely miscalculated the strength of the German defence and tried to grab the bull by the horns' by landing the main body of their invasion forces, particularly the tanks, right in front of Dieppe."

Losses of the attacking force were given as 95 officers and 2,122 men captured and some 475 dead, while German losses were six officers, 144 non-commissioned officers and other ranks dead; 15 N.C.O.'s and other ranks missing; five officers, 270 N.C.O.'s and other ranks wounded.

Shapiro, in his own comment on these reports, added:

"In the main they do not change the general opinion of Dieppe: that the operation was well worth while, that it might have been done with less cost if planning, leadership and luck had been better."

Many Foreign Cars Here During 1945

More than 11,710 foreign automobiles entered Vancouver by way of Vancouver Island ports during 1945—an increase of over 5,000 for 1944—reported George I. Warren, managing secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.

During the year 8,136 cars entered through Victoria, and 3,579 by way of Sidney.

Foreign automobiles entering British Columbia last year totaled 148,608.

Shoplifting Charge Brings Fine of $10

Because she was the mother of 14 children and was confronted with a large hospital bill a woman charged with shoplifting was treated with leniency by Magistrate Henry C. Hall in city police court yesterday morning. She was fined $10 and given two weeks to pay, or in default to serve three days in jail.

Frank E. Stewart, charged with dangerous driving following a head-on collision at the intersection of Blanshard Street and Burdett Avenue on the morning of February 19, was remanded until Tuesday after evidence had been taken. P. J. Sinnott appeared for Stewart, and entered a plea of not guilty.

Evidence was given by Constables A. Robertson and R. Berry. The two automobiles involved, both taxicabs, sustained considerable damage. Clarence Hutchinson was the driver of the second vehicle, and in giving evidence contended it was the condition of the street, rather than carelessness, that caused the accident.

Arena Architects Ready When Drawings Come From Chicago

Architects for the projected Memorial Arena have their plans as far advanced as it is possible for them to go until designs for roof, piers and foundation are received from Chicago, stated Douglas James, D. C. Frame and Mubert Savage, associate architects, in a statement issued yesterday dealing with delay in starting the project.

The statement follows:

"We feel that at this time, with so much comment in the press, on the air and in person over the delay in making a start on the arena, some explanation is due to the public, and therefore we give the following resume of recent activities:

"At a meeting held in the City Hall on October 30, at the request of the arena committee, we presented two sets of sketch plans of the proposed building, showing two different types of construction. One type showed a steel truss roof supported on concrete piers, with two-inch wood plank roofing covered with slate-surfaced shingles. The other was a barrel-shaped all-concrete roof, supported by concrete ribs on concrete piers.

"The seating capacity of the two types of building was about the same, and there was very little difference in the estimated cost of the two styles.

"After much debate at this meeting the civic arena committee and the citizens' committee voted in favor of the all-concrete roof. A deciding factor undoubtedly was the completely fireproof roof offered in the all-concrete design. It was considered that the upkeep would be less with such a building, and the danger of loss through fire would be overcome, with consequent reduction of insurance rates.

"Patent rights for the all-concrete roof of the type required for this huge span—clear across the width of the building from wall piers—are held by Roberts & Schaefer, engineers, of Chicago, who have an engineer representing them in Vancouver.

"Some delay occurred through having to negotiate terms with the Chicago engineers for the use and design of the patented roof. The delay was further prolonged by the engineers insisting on very complete and deep-soil tests being made on the site of the arena, before they could proceed with the design of the large reinforced concrete footings required to take the great load and thrust from the piers supporting the roof.

"To make this point quite clear we would like to repeat again that the roof, piers supporting the roof and the foundations under the piers, all of reinforced concrete, are now being designed in Chicago. We, the architects for the building, have all our plans as far advanced as it is possible for us to go until we receive the engineers' drawings showing their part of the work, as previously described.

"When we receive this information it will be a matter of two or three weeks before the whole work is ready for contractors to tender on.

"And, may we add, that we think it will be worth waiting for. It is a big undertaking, and a very important one for Victoria; by collecting and sorting ideas and suggestions from a great number of interested and informed people during the months that have passed, the plan will have benefited, and the city will get the very best that is obtainable."

Referee Declares Bout "No Contest"

CHICAGO, March 1 (AP).—A bout between Arturo Godoy, Chilean heavyweight challenger, and Lee Savold, of Paterson, N.J., was declared "no contest" by Referee Johnny Behr in the eighth of ten scheduled rounds in Chicago Stadium tonight.

The bout was a howling disappointment to 7,905 fans, who paid $32,046 and lustily booed every round until the referee halted the proceedings.

Godoy, lumbering into one clinch after another, failed to make a fight of it and tied the apparently willing Savold into a helpless knot in the clinches.

Most of the rounds were of a similar creep-in-and-clutch pattern except the third when Godoy cracked Savold a couple of times after the bell. Savold, enraged, tore into the rugged Chilean and Referee Behr was the recipient of the hardest blow of the battle when he caught a wild punch on the head in attempting to separate the fighters.

Food Often Relieves Depression

By Dr. J. B. WARREN

Many men and women think they are tired when they are really weak from hunger. "The feeling of fatigue that shows the need for food is not relieved by rest, but it is relieved by food."

The man returning in the evening tired, irritable and dispirited from a "hard day" at his work finds little relief in rest whilst waiting for his evening meal. Relief from his tiredness and depression comes only when meal is eaten.

an assurance of improvement on the British Columbia side.

He tried to get a commitment on that score from Hon. Herbert Anscomb, Minister of Public Works, but was met with the reply:

"Come up and see me some time."

At a time when transportation companies were hard-pressed to find space for returning servicemen, "Ottawa members were traveling on free passes, with their families, taking up the space of more than a dozen servicemen," he declared.

Ottawa members came in for another assault on the increase in sessional indemnities by an additional tax-free $2,000. Mr. Uphill suggested that the British Columbia Government should write to the income tax department to see that every person in the province should get a corresponding $2,000 tax exemption.

"If it's fair for them, it's fair for every person laboring in this country," he declared.

Save Money By Mixing Cough Syrup at Home
It's So Easy! Needs No Cooking. Gives Very Quick Relief.
Even if you're not interested in saving good money, you surely want a highly effective relief for coughs due to colds. So try mixing it yourself, in your kitchen, and be ready for a surprise.
It's so easy to mix, anyone can do it. Make a syrup by stirring 2 cups of granulated sugar and 1 cup of water a few moments, until dissolved. No cooking is needed. Or use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup. Put 2½ ounces of Pinex (obtained from any druggist) into a 16 oz. bottle. Then fill up with your syrup. This makes 16 oz. of cough syrup, about four times as much for your money. It tastes good—children like it. It never spoils, and lasts a family a long time.
But what you'll like most is the way it takes right hold of a cough. It loosens the phlegm, soothes irritation, and helps clear the air passages. Eases soreness, and lets you sleep. You'll say it's hard to beat for results.
Pinex is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, well known for its quick action on throat and bronchial irritations. Try it, and if you're not really delighted, your money will be refunded.

Workers Reject General Motors' Terms; Propose Pressure Policy

NEW YORK, March 1 (AP).—The United Auto Workers (C.I.O.) today rejected General Motors' terms for settling the 101-day-old automotive strike and called for a "policy of pressure" by C.I.O. unions in related industries to force an "early and victorious" end of the costly dispute.

The action, taken by the union's General Motors council which called the 175,000 General Motors production workers off the job last November 21, dashed hopes for early settlement of the strike.

Longest major dispute in the United States, the strike has shut off more than half the industry's potential car production at a cost of more than $750,000,000 in wages and sales.

The door to possible settlement was left open, however, as the council directed the union's negotiating committee to resume talks with the company Saturday.

At the same time another Detroit strike, a 10-day work stoppage of C.I.O. dairy workers which shut off 60 per cent of the city's milk supply, was settled. Subject to ratification of the strikers, union representatives agreed to accept an 18 cents an hour wage increase for the 1,000 strikers. Some 2,400 drivers had joined in a sympathy walkout.

At Philadelphia, comparative industrial serenity prevailed for the first time in three days when striking C.I.O.-General Electric Company employees abandoned plans for a mass demonstration in the face of a city edict against parading without a permit.

The American industrial machine moved along at the fastest clip in more than a month as more steel fabricators signed agreements with the C.I.O. steelworkers and steel shortages were relieved in allied industries.

A survey showed the peak figure of 860,000 idle in basic steel and allied industries had slid to 245,000. The total idle because of labor disputes across the country has fallen from a high of nearly 1,700,000 in late January to about 810,000.

DOVER, England (CP). — Dover town council has drawn up a 20-year plan for rebuilding 270 acres of Dover, which suffered heavy war damage. Regency houses along the seafront, battered by shellings, are to be pulled down and the building line set back 180 feet.

Saanich Building Is Tenfold 1945

A tenfold increase in value of building for February over February last year was shown in the Saanich building report yesterday. Last month 103 permits totaling $429,560 were issued, compared to 51 permits totaling $45,685 a year ago.

Total increase in the value of building permits in two months this year compared with the same period in 1945 is more than sixfold. In the first two months of 1946, $653,205 worth of permits were issued; in the first two months of 1945, $101,925. Fifty-nine of last month's permits were for houses. In February, 1945, there were 17.

Victoria's building for the first two months of the year more than doubled 1945. This year 224 permits have been issued to the value of $658,653, compared with 139 permits totaling $334,638 in 1945. Forty-nine of this year's permits were for houses compared with 14 last year.

Oak Bay and Esquimalt building also boomed. Oak Bay's total permits for the year to date were 35, valued at $132,038, against 22 in 1945, valued at $56,069. February's total was 20 permits, value $68,063; and the total for February, 1945, was ten permits, value $19,075.

Esquimalt's 21 permits for the two-month period totaled $82,950, compared to $12,705 for January and February, 1945.

Want More Canal Lights Installed

PORT ALBERNI, March 1.—Harry Houser was appointed secretary of Alberni District Board of Trade during a meeting at the Somass Hotel. He succeeds Frank Barry.

It was noted that British Columbia Pilots' Association supported a move of the harbor committee to have Alberni Canal cleared of debris, more lights installed on headlands, and an automatic fog horn placed on Polly's Point.

The harbor committee is pressing for lights on Dunsmuir Point, Hayes Point and Rocky Point.

Yesterday in The House

Tom Uphill (Lab., Fernie) advocated abolition of the means test for old age pensioners, which he said was resented by elderly people. Urged better working conditions for miners and better roads leading into the United States.

Arthur B. Ritchie (Cln., Salmon Arm) criticized roads and ferries in his riding and advocated establishment of an aerial forest patrol as first-line defence against forest fires.

A. C. Hope (Cln., Delta) told members one of the reasons there was a butter shortage in Canada was that butterfat going into production of butter was bringing about 38 cents a pound, while butterfat going into fluid market brought about 70 cents a pound.

He recommended setting up a military zone on the Pacific Coast to prohibit leasing or buying of land by Japanese and pressed for establishment of an experimental farm in the Fraser Valley and elimination of tolls on the Pattullo bridge.

Arthur B. Turner (C.C.F., Vancouver East) urged a low-rental housing plan to provide employment. Housing, he said, was one of the most urgent projects with which the Government could be associated. He said exports should be allowed only after the home market is supplied and urged adoption of 40-hour week.

Wheeler, H. A. Porter, Maj.-Gen. W. W. Foster, Cecil Rose, E. K. deBeck and E. Davies. A large gathering of friends and relatives was present and numerous floral offerings were received. House Problem Before House

Attacking the Government for its "majestic aloofness" toward the housing situation in British Columbia, A. J. Turner (C.C.F., Vancouver East) declared in the Legislature yesterday afternoon that for the sake of the people of the province and their dire need, the Government could not afford to continue to ignore the growing call for action.

Conceding the material and financial limitations of the province, Mr. Turner maintained nevertheless that if the Government was not going to tackle the problem, the conclusion must be drawn that it was satisfied with private building and the orthodox methods of financing through the National Housing Act.

He criticized the Throne Speech for lacking reference to housing—"one of the most urgent projects with which the Government can be associated."

WANTS HOUSING FOR LOWER INCOME GROUP

"Not housing in the higher or middle income groups, but for those people in what is called the lower third income group," Mr. Turner continued. "They are the people who have always provided a market for broken down and worn out property. They are the people who have never in their lives enjoyed really decent homes."

He asserted that if it was the intention of the Government not to tackle the problem, then the people of British Columbia might as well know that "as far as the Government is concerned the masses will continue for a long time to fester in over-crowded conditions in vile slums which, if the Department of Health carried into effect health acts and by-laws, would be condemned."

LOW-RENT HOUSING WOULD PROVIDE EMPLOYMENT

Further criticizing the Throne Speech as containing a "significant" blank on the subject of labor, Mr. Turner said introduction of a comprehensive low-rental housing plan would be a means of providing employment as well as a steady market for many building materials available in the province. According to the Postwar Rehabilitation Council's report, 80 cents of every dollar spent in building went directly to labor.

Mr. Turner asserted that it would be better for the future of the province if there were slackening in production for export of exhaustible resources and building up of secondary industries. Through the medium of Crown companies, many new industries should be put in action. He put a plan of industrial development side by side with a plan for cheap power.

LONDON (CP). — "Rainbow Corner," the American Red Cross Club, was closed recently after being open continuously day and night since November 11, 1942. During that period it gave shelter, comfort and entertainment to some 18,000,000 service men.

Expect Unemployment to Increase Until Industries Complete Plans

"While we may expect some increase in unemployment over the next two or three months, it will be of a temporary nature. We can reasonably anticipate that as new plants come into production during the Spring and early Summer and as normal seasonal upturn in employment takes place, Canada will again experience a shortage of workers similar to that of the war years," Hon. C. D. Howe, Dominion Minister of Reconstruction and Supply, said in an address before the Canadian Club in the Empress Hotel at noon yesterday.

"The shift of men and resources back to peacetime employment is a task comparable only to the war effort itself," Mr. Howe continued.

Outlining the problems involved in reconversion, Mr. Howe said: "No longer is it possible to control and allocate raw materials, nor is it practicable to direct workers to essential peacetime jobs. The result is that at present we have a shortage of workers in some areas and a surplus in others."

"Particular attractions" of the Pacific Coast were given by the speaker as the reason for the unemployment situation in this province, as large numbers of servicemen and others employed here during the war are staying in or returning to British Columbia.

"This has led to an unemployment situation here which is not typical of Canada as a whole," he said.

The effect of the war's ends on Canadian industry was mentioned by Mr. Howe. The end of hostilities in Europe brought about cancellation of 65 per cent of Canadian war production, and after "V-J" Day all but a very few war contracts were terminated.

GOVERNMENT BUYING PRACTICALLY AT END

"Today Government purchasing is practically at an end except for supplies required for the present armed services," the speaker continued.

Mr. Howe dealt at some length with the expansion of Canadian industry during the war and the problems of disposal of surplus war materials after the cessation of hostilities.

"The Government itself built new factories involving a direct investment of $730,000,000, while at the same time private enterprise spent over $500,000,000 for the same purpose," he related.

Tremendous expansion of basic industries in Canada was described by the speaker.

"For example," he said, "our steel production was doubled, our aluminum production was multiplied by twelve, our brass production increased six times the normal output, and our base metal mines were greatly expanded to meet the demands of war," he said.

"When the supply of natural rubber was cut off, Canada undertook the manufacture of synthetic rubber on a scale that today can meet our total rubber requirements.

"I am happy to state now that we never failed to deliver any type of material or weapon that we undertook to produce," Mr. Howe declared.

Responsibilities of removing and disposing of surplus war machinery and materials and settlement of terminated contracts, now being discharged by the War Assets Corporation and the Contracts Settlement Board, were explained.

"War Assets Corporation has in hand the largest merchandising operation ever conducted in Canada," Mr. Howe said.

DESCRIBES ASSISTANCE TO INDUSTRIAL EXPANSION

Assistance being given by the Department of Reconstruction and the National Research Council to the rapid expansion of private industry was outlined by the speaker.

Describing low-cost housing as the chief need in Canada at the moment, Mr. Howe said a special drive is being made to regulate the distribution of supplies so that homes intended for completion in 1945, still uncompleted and unoccupied, may be completed before the end of March.

Speaking briefly on this country's economy as a whole, the speaker said: "It is difficult to find any basis for pessimism about the immediate future of our Canadian economy."

Exports are still far above the minimum required to maintain a high level of national income, and the domestic market will continue strong through 1946, Mr. Howe said.

Pointing out that shortage of employment inevitably brings demands for Government spending in the form of public works, Mr. Howe stated only those works urgently required should be undertaken at present to avoid unnecessary interference with private expansion.

"The time will come when there will be a valuable means of providing employment, but that time will not be in the immediate future," Mr. Howe declared.

In conclusion, Mr. Howe said he believed the short-term reconstruction problem was well in hand and that if any country in the world can look forward to a prosperous future, that country is Canada.

Say Franco Told To Quit in Month

LONDON, March 1 (Reuters).—The star in a front-page article today said that "Franco has been given a month's notice to quit."

"If he has not handed Spain over to a democratic government at the end of that time," the Liberal evening newspaper's article continued, "U.N.O.'s Security Council, meeting in New York in three weeks, are to force the issue.

"They will give him fair warning that his regime, contrary to the United Nations Charter, is a danger to the maintenance of peace.

"They will accuse him of trying to defy democracy and of harboring German war criminals . . . and hiding a large part of the loot, mostly in gold, smuggled out of former occupied territory by Hitler's henchmen.

"It is expected that Franco will be allowed to send a courier to New York to state his case, but action will be taken immediately by the Security Council if he does not agree to go quietly.

"Allied envoys in Madrid have already told Franco that he has no chance now of continuing his regime—that is, unless he denies U.N.O."

Returns Hospital Key to Eagles

Key to the Civil Defence hospital established and maintained by Victoria Aerie, Fraternal Order of Eagles, was returned to the Eagles last night. The hospital, set up in the lodge hall on View Street, was the emergency accommodation established for the business section of Victoria when attacks on the West Coast seemed imminent.

Mayor Percy E. George, besides returning the key, presented Civil Defence certificates to members of the lodge and Ladies' Auxiliary at a banquet held in the lodge hall. William Bridgewood was master of ceremonies.

The Mayor paid high tribute to Eagles for the part they played in Civil Defence. W. C. Mainwaring in a letter said their work was a real contribution to Civil Defence in the southern section of the Island.

Head table guests and speakers included Inspector A. H. Bishop, formerly Civil Defence controller; David Essler, Ald. J. A. Worthington, Archie Wills, M. P. Paine, Joseph Wright, Capt. D. J. Proudfoot, H. Church, William Cox, S. Thomas, Mrs. I. Baines, Mrs. W. Levy, Mrs. S. Thomas, Mrs. T. Taylor, Mrs. W. Griffin and Mrs. J. Rose.

James Paine, Eagles president, expressed pride in the work done by the Eagles, and declared "the same unselfish co-operation in the problems we now face . . . could make a success of our peace efforts as . . . of our war efforts." He pledged the full support of the Eagles.

Service Clubs to Hear Air Officers

Three Royal Canadian Air Force officers will speak to service clubs here next week in connection with the air force recruiting drive for ground crew.

Flt. Lt. L. H. Kelsey, Patricia Bay, a former aero engine mechanic who remustered to air crew and became gunnery leader of a Coastal Command squadron, will speak Monday to the Gyro Club on "A Young Man's Service."

On Tuesday Wing Comdr. W. E. Poupore, senior administrative officer of the Patricia Bay air station, will address the Kiwanis Club on "A Career With a Future." Wing Cmdr. Poupore served as the first adjutant of the Patricia Bay station.

Air Vice-Marshal J. L. Plant, C.B.E., air officer commanding Western Air Command, will speak Thursday to the Rotary Club on the theme, "From the Ground Up." Vice-Marshal Plant, a member of the permanent R.C.A.F. since 1929, formerly lived here and his parents reside at 194 Olive Street. On January 16 last he made a new West-East speed record for four-engine aircraft when he flew his Liberator bomber from Vancouver to Ottawa in seven hours 23 minutes.

British Columbia's Stand

Most individuals who know the circumstances in British Columbia, and in Canada as a whole, will understand British Columbia's official position in regard to the outright and unabridged surrender of its income and corporation taxes, and succession duties, as proposed by the Dominion at the conferences begun again August last and to be resumed in April. The Dominion has those taxes now, and until it declares the "state of war" to be at an end, it can keep them for that time and twelve months after. Under the British North America Act, however, only the Provinces had the right of direct taxation, which is involved here.

The bargain made by the Dominion with British Columbia for the war period was that this Province retire from collection of income and corporation taxes, and some other levies, in return for the handing back of what these main sources produced in the year 1941—or some $12,048,367. This arrangement was temporary, and recognized as such. Under it the Province was pegged at what its rates produced in 1941, although it was being called on to look after several hundred thousand more people and under emergency war conditions at that. If that agreement ends by the mere passage of time, then British Columbia would automatically revert to her tax status in the governing B.N.A. Act.

This Province has said that, while it cannot afford to surrender sight unseen any of its primary rights in the matter, it is willing to discuss and to reach a working interim policy, for three years at the start, whereby the Dominion can continue in a field which has netted it exceedingly heavy revenues in this province, and at the same time assure to British Columbia something more practical than the pegged rebate of 1941, which is meaningless today.

Position Is Stated

The stand of the British Columbia Government was reiterated this week by Premier John Hart in the Legislature when he said, and we quote:

"Briefly our position is that we will recommend for a three-year trial period that the Province refrain from imposing income and corporation taxes, provided we are compensated by a sum equal to what we would collect it again we imposed similar taxes to what were in force previous to the war tax agreement. The alternative to this is that we proceed to collect income and corporation taxes at rates current before the war. Should we be obliged to do this, the Dominion Government by the terms of the present tax agreement must reduce their taxes accordingly but not exceeding ten per cent on corporation incomes. Consequently our re-entry into tax fields would not mean increased taxes for the taxpayers. Should this step be necessary, we would ask the Dominion Government to collect the taxes on our account so that there would only be one collecting agency. Any agreement arranged by us at Ottawa cannot be binding on the Province until approved by this Legislature."

That is a just position. It reminds Ottawa of the hundreds of millions that have been collected in British Columbia during the war in Federal levies superimposed on Provincial and municipal ones. It reaffirms our basic rights under Confederation, which cannot be whistled away. It goes further, and offers the hand of agreement on a basis that will be mutually fair and equitable in the light of the present-day circumstances. It guards this position by the condition of a three-year "trial", which is both sound and necessary, as everyone West of the Rocky Mountains knows.

The Dominion, in April, should revise its proposals in such a manner that the Dominion will ask for a little less, and permit the nine Provinces at the same time to retain a little more of their own resources. If that is done, agreement will be reached. If it is not, there is always the Privy Council and the written protection of the law. A ratio of fourteen tax dollars to one is not equitable.

General Crerar Retires

The retirement of General H. D. G. Crerar was announced yesterday by Hon. Douglas Abbott, Minister of National Defence. General Crerar, as every Canadian knows, was the man who led this country's land forces to victory in Northwest Europe; the able soldier who was second only to Field Marshal Montgomery in the operations of the 21st Army Group. He steps down from active duty holding the highest military rank ever attained by a Canadian soldier, bringing a distinguished army career to an end after 35 years' service.

General Crerar, despite his long career, is still a comparatively young man, and it is a matter for regret that Canada is not to have the benefit of his experience in some other official capacity. He is 57 years of age, two years older than General Eisenhower and one year younger than Field Marshal Montgomery. Both these eminent soldiers have been appointed to the highest and similar military post in their respective countries, that of army chief of staff. Canada is well served by her recently appointed staff chief, Lieut.-Gen. Charles Foulkes, but in these difficult days it might have been advantageous to have at hand, even in an advisory role, the man whose overseas leadership made him the repository of unexcelled knowledge and experience.

Those who heard General Crerar speak in the city a month ago in the course of a cross-country tour, were impressed with his obvious capabilities. A country is the poorer when it permits its leaders to retire into obscurity while still in a position to render services of considerable value. The administrative experience alone, for example, of a man like General Crerar is not readily available, and might well have been turned to account in some official civilian post. A more fitting gesture, perhaps, would be the creation of a services advisory board of some sort, in which the rich experience of leaders of the three services could be pooled for the common benefit of Canada.

Another Decision

The Coalition Government are to be commended on their decision to retain forestry administration within the control of the Legislature, although urged to attach it to a "commission" by the Sloan report. The people are getting sick and tired of commissions, the common measles of war and a rash which has not subsided on the face of Canada. There are all forms of commissions, but the one that was proposed to the Province was a permanent body, which would be in control. Meanwhile, the Government would retain its Forestry Department and its forest services, presumably without much voice in the matter. That, at least, is what "an independent commission" would mean.

If it were logical to place the forests of British Columbia under a special commission, the same thing could be said of lands, of railways, of agriculture, of fisheries and of all the rest of it. If that process were followed to its logical conclusion, there would be government without any function, and legislatures without any revision or review. One of three things would happen—and all three of them have been seen before by the people of British Columbia: There would be a commission which was law unto itself, or a commission which was powerless except at the direct dictation of the presiding Cabinet, or, in the worst extreme, a commission which was half in the sight of the Legislature and half out of it, whichever suited at the moment.

In British Columbia the Provincial Forest Service is one of exceptional ability and loyalty. It has advised all Governments honestly and faithfully in the past. If there is any omission it was on the part of those Governments which did not listen to the advice of its own experts. Moreover, if a Power Commission is to spend $20,000,000 in two years, what would a Forest Commission consume?

Hon. C. D. Howe

The warmth of the personal welcome extended by the Canadian Club of Victoria yesterday to Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of Reconstruction, was indicative of a tribute that has been wholly earned. Without disparagement to others, Mr. Howe's services to this nation in war have been outstanding. He had grave decisions to make, and made them. Much of the drive behind the official part of Canada's war effort came from the lead which he assumed, and held with the support of a fighting nation. Here with Mrs. Howe on a brief vacation, Mr. Howe is entitled to a surcease from political faction, to the quiet enjoyment of a few treasured days, and to the thanks of a nation which he has served so ably at some expense to his health and stamina. Victoria will remember his graceful tribute of "Happy Island'".

Seen in Passing

Mayor Percy E. George, of Victoria, has gone one record as in favor of a worthwhile scheme of daylight saving which will embrace the adjoining areas, as indeed it should. Perhaps Federal ministers on the Pacific seaboard will nudge Ottawa for us. Spring is upon us now, and daylight saving—if it is agreed upon internationally—will take some time to implement. Under the average conditions of life today in the cities and towns an hour of free time in daylight is worth saving, and that can be done.

Wander-Thirst

Beyond the East the sunrise, beyond the West sea,
And East and West the wander-thirst that will not let me be;
It works in me like madness, dear, to bid me say good-bye;
For the sea-call and the star-call, and oh! the call of the sky!

I know not where the white road runs, nor what the blue hills are;
But a man can have the sun for friend, and for his guide a star;
And there's no end of voyaging when once the voice is heard,
For the river calls and the road calls, and oh! the call of a bird!

Yonder the long horizon lies, and there by night and day
The old ships draw to home again, the young ships sail away;
And come I may, but go I must, and, if men ask you why,
You may put the blame on the stars and the sun and the white road and the sky.

—GERALD GOULD.

Harbor Wanted

Frank M. Kelley

When Minister of Fisheries Bridges and Deputy Minister Finn visited Victoria recently, the Minister was the central figure in a private gathering which was presided over by Alderman Lloyd Morgan, chairman of the City Council's harbor committee. Present at the meeting were prominent Victorians, including R. W. Mayhew, M.P., Mayor Percy George, J. V. Johnson, E. D. Todd, Major Cuthbert Holmes, president of the Chamber of Commerce; Walter Miles, vice-president; Fred Hawes, chairman of the Chamber's port committee; Aldermen Worthington and McTavish.

As there were no reporters present at the meeting what transpired was not made public, although a brief announcement that such a meeting had taken place was subsequently made. Matters discussed, it is understood, were not of sufficient concern to warrant any detailed report in these days of restricted newspaper space.

That meeting, however, was a sort of prelude to a tour of Victoria's inner and outer harbor areas, which Alderman Morgan's colleagues on the City Council and of the port committee of the Chamber of Commerce had arranged for the benefit of Mr. Bridges during his stay here, which, while it was undoubtedly helpful and enlightening, was all too brief to get a thorough realization of what certain developments can mean to Vancouver Island, British Columbia and Canada.

MADE MOMENTS COUNT

With the time at their disposal, the local committee made every moment count. They had arranged for the Minister and his Deputy to meet the men already engaged in processing fish and building fishing craft, and were told of other ambitious projects already well advanced for capitalizing on the wealth of the waters off Vancouver Island in the future.

Visiting boat-building plants in active production along Victoria's restricted inner harbor foreshore, at the yards of Falconer Limited and Wilby's Machine Shop, the party saw troller, seiner and tuna boats in various stages and heard about further orders in hand for little vessels of the same type. They saw the location of the fishermen's wharf which the Federal Government will construct for the convenience of fishermen and were told of plans for service stations nearby for supplying needs of the crews and boats that bring in the sea harvest.

From the Inner Harbor they were taken out to the V.M.D. (Rithets) and were shown what may be done there in the way of providing suitable wharves (plans are already prepared, I understand and are now at Ottawa) for the accommodation of deepsea vessels carrying passengers and cargoes. Continuing along the foreshore they were shown the present facilities for receiving car barges, and were told of the shortcomings these represented.

Ogden Point Piers, of course, couldn't be passed up. It was too bad the weather and the tides couldn't have collaborated to show the minister how the waves can flow over the edges of the concrete piers and twist the rail trackage with their force; or how the southwesterlies at times prevent the fish-packers from lying alongside the cold storage pier facing and unloading their cargoes.

The party did see stacks of ice-glazed salmon and were told some facts by Mr. Ashby, who manages the cold storage plant for B.C. Packers. Mr. Ashby also gave them some figures as to future possibilities of the fishing industry in this vicinity, near-surface and ground fish, and the number of tuna boats which will probably land their fish locally this year.

SHED FULL OF FISH

Taken to the big freight shed at Ogden Point, the whole length of it was stacked with cased herring, awaiting shipment to Europe. The cases, it was computed, represented two shiploads. This exhibit, on top of the frozen fish exhibits at the cold storage plant, surprised Minister Bridges. And no wonder, for it was also somewhat of an eye-opener to some of the Victorians in the party. These latter had not realized what was going on so close to the city's front door.

Before leaving the outer harbor area, the location of the long-promised west breakwater, which some Victorians interested in the development of Victoria as a seaport hope to see built before they are gathered to their fathers, was pointed out to Mr. Bridges, and the necessity for its completion stressed.

On the building of this Macaulay Point breakwater much of Victoria's future progress depends. There is nothing fantastic in this claim. Victoria's advantages have been demonstrated in the past, and the present activity, according to rumors, may be presumed to be an indication of much greater development. All of which would be justified. For its own good, the good of British Columbia and of Canada, Victoria should take the fullest advantage of its geographic location.

OLD SHADOW

British Army to Be Double Prewar Strength

LONDON—The United Kingdom Government announced in a White Paper on February 22 that, provided a number of abnormal commitments are liquidated during the year and unforeseen events do not disturb progress towards a settled peace, Britain's defence forces at the end of 1946 will number one million trained men and a hundred thousand women, plus another hundred thousand men under training. (Though this plan means that 76 per cent of the men and women in the forces on "V-E" Day will have been demobilized by December, Britain will still have an armed forces personnel about twice as numerous as in prewar days).

The White Paper points out that it is still too early to decide the eventual shape of Britain's postwar forces—in particular the effects cannot yet be assessed of the implementation of Britain's obligations under the United Nations Charter: "To provide forces, facilities and assistance to be on call by the Security Council and to be at a prescribed state of readiness and in certain general locations."

The world-wide extent of Britain's present commitments is shown in the summary given in the White Paper, which lists the following: The provision of forces in Germany to assist in ensuring the execution of the surrender terms (these forces are being reduced, but cannot be dangerously weakened); a small contingent forming part of the British Commonwealth occupation force in Japan; forces sharing in the occupation of Austria, which the United Kingdom Government desires to reduce to small proportions as quickly as possible; forces sharing with United States forces the task of maintaining law and order in Venezia Giulia, which will end when the final peace treaty with Italy is signed; forces to assist the Greek nation in recovery, which will remain till the elections have taken place and conditions in Greece permit their withdrawal; forces to carry out Britain's responsibilities in Palestine; a force to deal with the liquidation of the Japanese occupation in Southeast Asia (the United Kingdom Government hope that peaceful conditions will be re-established during the year, thus enabling the withdrawal of the greater part of these forces; clearing the world's seas of mines, which should be nearly finished by the end of the year; the storing and guarding of valuable dumps of lend-lease material, so that it can be returned to the United States in good condition.

The list also includes commitments of a more permanent nature connected with the security of the British Commonwealth. These are the maintenance of internal security and settled conditions in various parts of the British Empire, where it has already proved possible to reduce many garrisons to a peacetime scale, and the safeguarding of communications and the upkeep of bases—essential for the efficiency and mobility of British forces by sea, land and air. The White Paper expresses full acknowledgment by the United Kingdom Government of the tremendous efforts in the common cause of the whole British Commonwealth and Empire, and its earnest desire to continue in peace the full partnership so magnificently established in war.

The White Paper forecasts a reduction in manpower in Britain engaged in work for the forces to half a million in December, including shipbuilding and aircraft production and the manufacture of stores and equipment. This will mean a reduction in the labor force since "V-E" Day of nearly three and a half million men and women, or 87 per cent.

A severe reduction in the output of weapons is essential, not only to assist Britain's economic recovery, but also to avoid the accumulation of obsolescent munitions. The four principles the Government propose to follow are: Concentration on research, since present scientific and technical progress is so rapid that safety lies far more in the maintenance of an adequate organization for pure and applied research than in the building up of stocks of obsolescent material; a limited introduction of the most modern equipment, e.g. jet-propelled aircraft; the maximum use of accumulated stocks, and the maintenance of a reasonable war potential.

The keynote of the White Paper may be summed up as a determination to maintain, in collaboration with the Dominions and India, British armed forces strong enough to meet all possible commitments, imperial and international, while pursuing a research program that will ensure those forces being supplied with the most up-to-date equipment available.—United Kingdom Information Bureau.

WEST COAST ROAD

Sir,—The West Coast Road is hard surfaced for approximately 29 miles from Victoria. The last 15 miles are unsurfaced, and have had little work done on them for about 10 years, except for the bridges. The road grader has been over the gravel road, but there is no gravel on the road for it to do any good. These 15 miles are in terrible condition, full of pot holes and wash board.

The Government has been promising to surface the remainder of the West Coast Road for 10 years or more.

I suggest that surfacing this 15 miles of road would give many unemployed work and make the road much safer and easier on cars.

During the depression the Government started to built the West Coast Road to Port Renfrew. They got as far as seven miles past Jordan River and there they stopped. There is no one living on this part and its only use is for logging trucks.

Surfacing the 15 miles of gravel road and finishing the highway to Port Renfrew would make the growing population, which has only this highway for means of transportation to Victoria, very grateful.

A PROPOSAL

Sir,—As I notice the question of a new site, to take the place of the Willows Fair Grounds for our yearly exhibitions, has not yet been decided, may I suggest consideration of that part of the old Indian reserve in Victoria West which could be made useful for an exhibition.

There would be no room for a race track but, by a well laid out plan of buildings for exhibits, shows, and house sheds for cattle, etc., and road networks, it could be made into a very suitable and central location for our yearly exhibitions.

It could either be rented or leased and the use of it for defence purposes in time of war need not prevent its use for yearly fair purposes.

There are no residential restrictions or objections likely to be raised. It seems to be common property of three Governments, and at present is not used for any important industrial purpose inside the circuit of the two railways, the two highways, and the water frontage facilities. So many of the military huts built during the war could be made suitable for purposes connected with exhibition needs, and are not so far to be transported, if the fair grounds were located inside the triangle of the highways from Point Ellis Bridge to the old brewery in Victoria West, then back on Johnson Street to the Canadian National Railway depot, and the E. & N. Railway overhead.

From a useless, unsightly waste of rockland this territory could as a fair grounds be developed into a beautiful rock garden of usefulness, and a yearly attraction to many thousands of citizens and visitors.

Victoria city and district cannot afford to lose its yearly fair and exhibition show and the more central it is located the better.

JAMES MOYES.

Interior Member Suggests Aerial Patrols to Safeguard B.C. Forests

Establishment of an aerial forest patrol as a first-line defence against forest fires was strongly advocated by A. B. Ritchie, Coalition member for Salmon Arm, in his maiden speech in the Legislature yesterday.

Look-outs established at good points of observation had been proved as far back as 1929 to be merely second-line defence, Mr. Ritchie claimed. Now equipped with two-way radio sets enabling the look-outs to cross-check on fire spottings, excellent results were being achieved in the location of fires. But to the Salmon Arm member's view aerial patrols represented the only real answer to the problem.

To illustrate his point Mr. Ritchie said that in 1929 an aerial patrol started from Salmon Arm one afternoon 12 hours after a storm had passed over the Vernon and Mabel Lake district. In a flight of approximately two hours six fires were located before the look-outs were able to see them. Crews were dispatched and not one of the fires got out of control.

PATROL MEN "UNDERDOGS" OF FOREST SERVICE

"Putting in a word" for the forest patrol men, whom he described as the underdogs of the forest service, classed as temporary employees and not under the Civil Service, Mr. Ritchie declared that these men were "being built up with promises that are never fulfilled." He urged the minister see that they were better treated.

Mr. Ritchie said, in his opinion, "the returned man is getting the run-around" with respect to housing.

Stating that his district had produced 700 enlistments, Mr. Ritchie asserted that a bad taste was being left in the mouths of the men and women who had served and much unrest and dissatisfaction were being caused.

FAVORS 40-HOUR WEEK IF APPLIES TO FARMERS

On organized labor's 40-hour week demand, the Salmon Arm member said he would have no objection to it if farmers received the same deal. But, he pointed out, that would mean that farmers would have to put on two shifts, as in industry, which would increase the cost of living to the consumer, "unless the minister and his scientists can produce cows, chickens and all other farm animals that will also work a 40-hour week and come into double production."

Appealing for more road work for the Interior, Mr. Ritchie predicted that in the near future the minister also would be asked to include landing strips and airfields in his program to meet development of aviation.

Germany Facing Grim Struggle In Coming Months; Food Short

BERLIN, March 1 (Reuters).—A grim struggle for existence in every sphere of life—financial, industrial and economic—lies before the people of Berlin as they emerge from the Winter. There is every reason to believe that 1946 will be a far more trying year for the Germans than was 1945.

Symbolic of the bitter struggle ahead was announcement yestreday of a 50 per cent slash in the bread and cereal products rations in the British zone.

Germans who grumbled this Winter about not being given enough food, that their houses were inadequate and that they had no fuel for heating and cooking had hoped that the Spring would bring the end of their privations.

Background to the decision to cut food rations in the British zone is provided by these figures of German food production:

In 1936, in what now is the British zone, there were 2,420,184 acres of grain and 3,762,751 acres of other foodstuffs sown.

Even the most optimistic estimate today is that the areas sown in 1946 cannot exceed 2,122,000 acres of grain and 3,730,000 acres of other crops.

But owing to inadequate manuring and fertilizing over a long period as well as to a great shortage of seed the yield per acre will be far less than in 1938.

In 1946 the yield of grain had fallen by 20 per cent compared with 1938. In 1945 it will be still lower.

The housing prospect is somewhat better. In September, 1945, it was estimated that there were 1,398,715 dwelling units in the British zone needing repair. It was hoped to make 565,432 habitable by December 31. This proved impossible, but 309,800 dwelling units were repaired. It is doubtful if all will be completed in the year.

In order to maintain the currency at its present level and meet all expenses the rate of taxation in Germany will have to be considerably increased and the Germans may look forward this year to paying a 50 per cent increase in property tax; death duties at some three times their present level; a 50 per cent increase in the turnover tax and great increases in customs and exise taxes, especially on luxury goods.

The Germans can expect dismantling of a great part of their industrial plants during this year both in order to demilitarize German industry and also to pay reparations for the damages inflicted on the Allies.

502 Vacant Jobs For Men in City

Little change in the employment picture was indicated in the weekly report of job vacancies issued yesterday at the office of C. A. Mudge, National Employment Service manager here.

There were 502 vacancies for men compared with 527 last week, and 289 for women, compared with 281. Number of applicants for the vacancies, in accordance with the National Employment Service's usual policy, was not announced.

Vacancies included the following: Men, clerical workers, 54; service workers, 52; logging, 54; construction, 114; unskilled, 195; skilled 33.

Women, clerical, 55; sales, 18; domestic, 116; service, 60; remainder, unskilled.

Bazaar and Indoor Circus at High School Great Success

It was an evening for fun, excitement, entertainment and happy crowds last night at Victoria High School, where the Students' Council held its fourth annual indoor circus and bazaar in aid of the Junior Red Cross. It continues tonight.

Hundreds of students, parents and friends milled through the classrooms, auditorium, gymnasium and library to try games of skill, to purchase student-made articles, to receive a ten-cent shoeshine, and to participate in a large number of activities.

More than 1,000 persons passed through the gates, and a greater number is expected tonight between 8 and 11 p.m.

Last year more than $2,600 was raised at a similar event, and it is hoped to top this total by tonight. All funds will go to the Junior Red Cross.

For the past two months hundreds of students have been planning for the affair, making articles for sale, latterly cooking all sorts of items, and arranging entertainment. Over 600 students and the entire teaching staff of the school take part in the presentation.

It is a program of variety from the word go. There are shows, motion pictures, candy stalls, home-cooking sections, and a large display of wood and metal work articles. In the library a dance was held. Many of the stalls presented penny-arcade appearance, and proved more than popular.

Two thousand hot dogs were ordered for the hot-dog stand alone. There was no doubt but that they would all be sold.

CONSIDERED "FINE FOR SCHOOL SPIRIT"

The affair is staged by the Students' Council, with the assistance of Harry Dee, vice-principal and general convener.

Locations of stalls and other detail in connection with the general layout of the bazaar were under the direction of George Brand and L. Swanson, teachers.

The whole affair is a product of student co-operation and initiative.

Gasoline Sales Up 10,000,000 Gallons

Total gasoline sales in British Columbia last year increased nearly 10,000,000 gallons over those for 1944, figures released yesterday by the Coal and Petroleum Control Board show.

Victoria total for the year was 2,073,380 gallons, compared with 6,499,878 gallons in 1944. Retail sales in Victoria amounted to 5,810,688 gallons compared with 4,551,498 in 1944; commercial sales, 2,111,265 against 1,814,612; and marine sales 151,447 compared with 133,768.

Provincial totals were: Resellers, 50,364,505 gallons (40,376,060); commercial, 22,741,812 (23,575,619); marine, 4,322,212 (4,033,514); totals, 77,428,489 (67,985,193).

At the Theatres

ATLAS THEATRE Jennifer Jones and Joseph Cotten are co-starred in "Love Letters" which will end tonight at the Atlas Theatre. A romantic-mystery drama, it is a perfect vehicle for Cotten who absorbs the mood of a film in much the same way a porous sponge seeps up water. The mood is haunting, romantic and strangely portentous. Love, murder and violent emotions combine to weave the curious tapestry of an enthralling story.

CAPITOL THEATRE Betty Grable and June Haver play the roles of the Dolly Sisters in the 20th Century-Fox picture of that name which will end tonight at the Capitol Theatre. The script of "The Dolly Sisters" calls for the greatest harmony ever demanded of two feminine co-stars. Besides eighty-six acting scenes, Betty and June share seven big song-and-dance numbers. John Payne has the male lead.

DOMINION THEATRE Abbott and Costello, the screen's Kings of Comedy, chalk up a new record of laughs in their latest hit, "Bud Abbott and Lou Costello in Hollywood," now showing at the Dominion Theatre. Added to the comedy are songs and romance, the latter personified by pretty Frances Rafferty and a screen newcomer, Robert Stanton.

OAK BAY THEATRE Lovely Joan Fontaine has one of the most enchanting acting parts of her career in Paramount's Technicolor film, "Frenchman's Creek," Mitchell Leisen production which will end tonight at the Oak Bay Theatre. She co-stars with Arturo de Cordova, handsome Latin star in the picturization of Daphne du Maurier's exciting novel about pirates of the seventeenth century.

PLAZA THEATRE Gale Storm is seen as a singer in her father's Bowery saloon and concert hall in "Sunbonnet Sue," colorful Monogram musical film which will close tonight at the Plaza Theatre. The film presents a story of New York in the Gay Nineties era. Phil Regan is co-starred in the role of a young Irish politician.

YORK THEATRE Grace Moore, international star of concert, opera, radio and screen, heads the cast in the all-musical film festival which will end tonight at the York Theatre. She sings the immortal music of Jerome Kern, Verdi and Schubert in "When You're in Love." Contributing to the tastes of music lovers is Jose Iturbi, world-famed pianist, who plays the music of Liszt and Chopin and Sir Ernest MacMillan and his 100-piece symphony orchestra.

Shown at left are two of Florence Clough's dancing pupils, who will be featured in the floor show presented jointly by Miss Clough and Miss Bonnie Ward. Alberni P.-T.A. News

ALBERNI, March 1.—Difficulties of parenthood were discussed by Mrs. C. M. Pineo at a meeting of Alberni Parent-Teacher Association. She felt a child should be brought up happily and wholesomely with ability to co-operate with others and adjust itself socially.

She thought the 'teen-age movement would assist children to grow into good citizens, and urged support of a club for them in a building formerly occupied by the army. She hoped that something could also be done for 12-year-old children.

New Houses Will Feature Rich Colors and Unusual Lighting

NEW YORK, March 1 (CP).—The homes of tomorrow generally will be smaller units than those today, with large main rooms and small sleeping rooms designed for the most comfortable living we ever have had. Their decoration will feature more rich glowing color and architectural uses of light.

That comes from Miss Bertha Schaefer, New York interior decorator, specialist in the decorative use of glowing color, paintings and light.

"The servant problem is partially responsible for a trend toward less expansive living," said Miss Schaefer recently in her New York studio gallery. "This does not indicate that all city dwellers will be squeezed into two and three-room apartments. But it does indicate there will be fewer eight and twelve-room units and more of four or five rooms. Furniture will be decidedly functional, such as a dining table that is also a library table or desk or that has a game table top.

"In decoration we shall make more and unusual use of light, often using it architecturally. For instance, where you wish that a wall were not, you can 'eliminate' it by making it glow. It can be hung with pale-colored curtains, lit from above with concealed fluorescent light so that it becomes a 'wall of light.' Powerful light in lamps will be filtered through metal fins, which deflect it to certain objects.

USE RICH COLORS

"Instead of monotone rooms—all grey, all blue, etc.—we shall make much greater use of rich, glowing color. And instead of considering only the color scheme of a room, we shall consider the color scheme of a house.

"For instance, in a house which I decorated recently, the walls of the large entrance hall were seafoam green with touches of white and strong green. On one side this led to a room with seafoam green paint and tangerine accents; on the other side to a living-room whose soft green background was offset by brilliant chintzes in red, yellow and blue. These rooms, varied as they were, were tied together by the repetition of green."

Miss Schaefer, a decorator of years standing and a member of the American Institute of Decorators, combines her 57th Street studio for interior design with an art gallery featuring the work of modern painters and pottery designers.

The lyre bird of Australia can imitate not only other birds but the barking of a dog, the buzz of a saw, the sound of an ax and the toot of a motor horn.

Finance—Commerce—Markets

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, March 1 (AP).—The stock market today got off to a stumbling start on the new month and, while scattered issues contested the shift with a show of relative strength and dealings were among the slowest of the past eight months, many leaders dipped fractions to around 2 points.

A few good earnings statements were helpful. Some bidding also was attributed to the belief that the list, as a result of the recent sharpest relapse in more than eight years, had achieved a much-desired technical correction of the swing to highs since 1931.

Light selling persisted, however, by those who were said to be skeptical over labor disputes, price controls and corporative profits.

Transfers of 820,000 shares compared with 1,170,000 Thursday and were the smallest for a full session since December 20.

The Associated Press 60-stock average was off .2 of a point at 73.8.

Thirty industrials, 189.49, off .60.
Twenty rails, 62.22, off .01.
Fifteen utilities, 38.99, off .06.
Sixty-five stocks, 71.37, off .12.
Total sales, 820,000.

Montreal Stocks

MONTREAL, March 1 (CP).—Leaders continued their two-day rally on balance up to the fifth hour today on the Stock Exchange and Curb Market. All groups were higher in the averages except golds which were down.

In industrials, National Steel Car, upon which the dividend was increased yesterday, was higher and a feature. Others ahead were General Steel Wares, Locomotive, Dominion Bridge, Canadian Car, Asbestos, Gypsum, Cement, Cockshutt Plow, B.C. Packers and Vickers issues.

Firmer in papers were St. Lawrence "A," International Consolidated, H. Smith, Abitibi 5 per cent preferred and Powell.

Montreal Power, Quebec Power and Shawinigan edged up in utilities. Imperial receded in banks and C.P.R. was in carriers.

Petroleum firmed and B.A. dipped in refineries. Smelters was ahead and Nickel easier in metals. Central Cadillac starred in secondary mines and touched a new top for 1946.

Chicago Grain

CHICAGO, March 1 (AP).—Speculative interests provided both sides of trading today in May rye, whipping prices around fairly rapidly, although moderately, most of the time.

The initial gain was around 2 1-2 cents a bushel and the decline about half as much. At one time brokers bid the grain within 2 1-2 cents of the season's high at $2.19 1-2.

Oats trading dragged along generally steady to form and within 1-2 cent of ceilings at times.

Wheat, corn and barley held again at ceilings of $1.80 1-2, $1.18 1-2 and $1.22 1-2, oats were unchanged to 1-4 cent higher, rye unchanged to 2 cents up.

NO. 69—EIGHTY-EIGHTH YEAR — VICTORIA, BRITISH COLUMBIA, SATURDAY, MARCH 2, 1946

SPORTS SLANTS

By SID THOMAS

MIDWEEK SOCCER LOOP MAY BE REVIVED HERE

Revival of the Victoria and District Wednesday Football League appears a possibility before the 1946-47 soccer season rolls around, according to the latest gossip on the local sports front. The proposal has its merits and reorganization of the once popular loop would provide good entertainment for those who enjoy their midweek half-holiday.

While it is perhaps a little too early to speculate on the probable entries for such a league, rumor has it that Hudson's Bay, Spencers, Navy and Army teams would comprise the set-up, thereby returning to the circuit those popular members which performed in the circuit many years ago.

Some of the city's outstanding players at one time or another played in the old Victoria and District Wednesday Football League, and team rivalry was always of the best and on the best possible terms. Competition in the old circuit between the two large departmental stores — Hudson's Bay and David Spencer's Ltd — was often the highlight of the activity in years gone by, while the performances of the classy, well-balanced Rennie & Taylor eleven are still happy memories for many mid-week fans.

Trophies played for annually included the Pendry Cup, emblematic of the league championship; Hayward Cup and the Rennie & Taylor Knockout Trophy. The cups are still available. All that remains is the reorganization of the once popular circuit. And this, we understand, is not a remote possibility.

SATURDAY MORNING PROGNOSTICATIONS

J.B.A.A. vs. Victoria College—Returning to the grassy surface of Macdonald Park this afternoon to try conclusions in a play-off battle for second-half honors in the Barnard Cup competition, Bays and College fifteens are on edge for what promises to be one of the most fiercely fought contests of the season.

Rugger enthusiasts are fairly evenly divided on the probable outcome of the fixture, a fixture which will decide the opposition for Royal Canadian Naval College in next week's city championship final for the Barnard Cup.

Students from Craigdarroch surprised the Bay supporters last week when they rolled to a 13-6 triumph, and that win has given the collegians added confidence in today's play-off game. Rival fifteens, each anxious to climb aboard the winning van, will have their strongest available squads in action.

This one really has the prediction puzzled, so we are going to sneak out on the proverbial limb and hazard a guess that the hard-driving, younger collegians will take the decision. After all, this is supposed to be the age of youth. Victoria College by three points.

Victoria Wests vs. Canadian Legion—Boasting of a 2-0 victory over the Greenshirts in a Phoenix Cup fixture, Canadian Legion footballers will stack up against the Wests in today's Jackson Cup semi-final at Royal Athletic Park, but this will be a different story.

Greenshirts, anxious to win this competition, major competition of the season, have a powerful line-up to throw against the Legion, and from this corner it looks as if the Legion footballers will find the Saturday afternoon chores just a little too heavy. Victoria Wests wil take this one by two markers.

Varsity vs. Vancouver Lions—Final game in the "Big Three" intercity McKechnie Cup Rugby series will be played today on the Varsity Thunderbirds' campus with the students from the University of British Columbia opposing the Vancouver Lions.

Victoria, for obvious reasons, is definitely interested in the final outcome of this fixture, as a defeat for the Lions would create a three-way tie and open the way for a possible play-off for the coveted "mug."

Of the two teams to show at Macdonald Park against the Crimson Tide, Vancouver Lions was the superior aggregation and defeated the locals. Officials of the Vancouver Rugby Union are set on regaining possession of the McKechnie Cup, and it looks as if this is Vancouver's year.

From where we sit the 1945-46 McKechnie Cup series will become history about 5 p.m. today with the Vancouver Lions as "Big Three" champions. Lions will climb aboard the winning van here by five points.

Canadian Open to Be Held in August

Dates Confirmed for Winnipeg Tourney—Conflict With Canadian Amateur Event

WINNIPEG, March 1 (CP). — The problems surrounding Canada's golf attraction, the rich $12,500 open to be staged at Winnipeg's Niakwa Country Club, August 8 to 11, are being ironed out.

However, one thorn still exists in the fact that the Canadian amateur will be held at Edmonton on conflicting dates, August 6 to 9.

W. C. (Bill) McCallum, Winnipeg sponsor, said today it was regrettable that the two tournaments were being held at the same time, but explained the P.G.A. worked on a tight schedule and the Winnipeg dates could not be changed. The Royal Canadian Golf Association, on the other hand, could rearrange the Edmonton dates, he added.

The dates for the open here were confirmed yesterday by Emile Colette, honorary president of the Canadian Professional Golfers' Association, and Earl Morris, of Toronto, tournament manager, will make final arrangements with the sponsors.

This is the first time McCallum, a Winnipeg businessman and golfer, has ever undertaken to promote a tournament. Backed by ten or 15 other men, whose names he said would be disclosed at a later date, the reason behind the venture is mainly to put Winnipeg on the golfing map.

No one stands to make any money on the open since all profits in excess of the $12,500 will go into C.P.G.A. offers.

With most of the top golfers slated to appear, the tournament will be one of the highlights of the Canadian golf season.

Boston Loses to Quebec All-Stars

OTTAWA, March 1 (CP).—An all-star Quebec Senior Hockey League team defeated Boston Bruins of the National Hockey League, 8-4, here tonight by virtue of sharp sniping by the Q.S.H.L.'s leading marksmen and stellar goal-tending by Bill (Legs) Praser, of Ottawa Senators.

Fast and free of penalties, the exhibition tilt was witnessed by more than 7,000 fans.

Jerry Plamondon, of Valleyfield Braves, and Jimmy McFadden, of Ottawa Senators, shared scoring honors for the winners with two goals each. Single all-star counters were notched by Montreal Royals' Butch Stahan and Leo Gravelle, Ottawa's Jack Irvine and Valleyfield's Tod Campeau, league-leading scorer.

The Bruins' buddies line accounted for two Boston goals, Porky Dumart scoring both on assists from Bobby Bauer and Milt Schmidt. Gordie Bruce and Roy Conacher got the others.

Back in Action

GORDIE BELL

Stellar play-making forward of the Victoria Wests soccer club, who will be back in action for the Greenshirts at Royal Athletic Park today when they tangle with the up-and-coming Canadian Legion eleven in a Jackson Cup semi-final. Game time is 2:30 p.m.

Oak Bay High Revue Scores

Presenting a well-balanced and highly entertaining program, students of Oak Bay High School staged their fifth revue before a capacity audience in the school auditorium last night. The program will be presented again this evening commencing at 8:15 p.m.

Under the general direction of Miss Margot Gordon, the revue included instrumental and vocal numbers, a mock radio skit, dances, novelty numbers and two short plays.

An overture by Bob Young's quartette opened the program. The opening chorus was followed by an amusing radio skit. A sword dance was given by Jean Dobbie. Maureen Little and Sheila Whittemore were heard in a piano duet. A novelty number, entitled "Fireside Dialogue," featured Joan Bate and Roddy Lea.

"Symphony" by Hazel Giles and Jim Stephenson preceded a colorful production called "Waltz Fantasy." The latter was directed by G. E. Bower, L.R.A.M., A.R.C.M., L.Mus.

A mock heroic tragedy done in imitation of the traditional Chinese theatre was presented by Mary Butters, John McLaren, Robin Terry and Tony Cox. Ed Estlin and Doug Main, as "Abe and Rastus," won their share of applause.

The popular song, "I'll Buy That Dream," was illustrated by appropriately costumed students. It was followed by a vocal solo, "Killarney," by Nancy Humphrey.

The story of a princess who wandered into a gypsy encampment was told in song and dance by a large and colorfully dressed cast.

"Toujours L'Amour," another short playlet, and a piano solo, Rachmaninoff's Prelude, were other features of the program.

Small Field for Big Stake Event

MIAMI, Fla., March 1 (AP).—Fourteen horses were set tonight to run in tomorrow's $50,000 added Widener Handicap at Hialeah Park, but nobody around that water-logged course expected more than five or six runners to try conclusions with the heavily favored Concordian in the 1 1-16-mile classic.

It cost the owners nothing to keep their horses eligible for the big stake overnight but they will have to lay another $1,000 on the line if they actually want to see their steeds run, and that is a powerful deterrent unless there is a real chance of winning some prize money. If all 14 should run, the race would gross $70,300 and the winner would take $51,700.

Concordian did nothing toward stimulating interest in the race when he breezed a half-mile in 48 seconds, in his final workout this morning over a track so heavy it would have bogged a flamingo. Armed, which will carry 19 more pounds than Concordian tomorrow and is almost certain to be second favorite in the mutuels, worked a half under slightly more pressure in 48 3-5.

The other horses that were expected to start were Hitem, Chief Barker, Reply Paid and Petrol Point, with Devalue a possibility. Scratches were expected from the owners of Alex Barth, Skytracer, Blenel, In-Coming, Sky Skipper, Chanceagain and Omomax.

Bay Cagers Wallop Duncan in Women's Senior 'B' Play-Off

Hudson's Bay put the clincher on the Island women's Senior "B" basketball championship at Duncan last night when they walloped the Duncan Goblins, 60-9, in the first game of their total-point series. Second game will be played at the High School gymnasium, Monday evening.

Slow to start, the winners could score only 19 points in the first half, but found the hoop with more regularity in the final quarters, to run up their sizable count. Duncan were held scoreless in each of the first and final periods.

Margaret LaLacheur and Flo Kennedy led the scoring parade with 18 and 14 points, respectively.

Teams and scores follow:

Macdonald Brier Play To Commence Monday

SASKATOON, March 1 (CP).—Cream of Canadian curlers, quartettes from every province will arrive here tomorrow to contest the Dominion curling championship for the first time since 1942, when war suspended play for the Macdonald's Brier Tankard, emblematic of the title.

Bert Wylie, veteran Winnipeg icemaker, and his helpers moved into the arena tonight to prepare the ice for play beginning Monday afternoon and running through to Thursday evening.

The British Columbia and Alberta champions will arrive tomorrow morning, and the Manitoba—present champions—Northern Ontario, Ontario, Quebec, New Brunswick, Prince Edward Island and Nova Scotia rinks tomorrow night. Members of the Saskatchewan rink are Saskatoon residents.

They will be met at their trains by the Saskatoon Light Infantry Pipe Band.

After luncheon, Monday, at which they will be guests of the city, the curlers will parade to the War Memorial to lay a wreath in honor of Canadian curlers who died in the World War, and then to the arena.

After that, the battle is on.

Woodcock Signs to Fight Oma May 13

NEW YORK, March 1 (AP).—Mike Jacobs, 20th Century Sporting Club promoter, said today Bruce Woodcock, British Empire heavyweight champion, has agreed to terms for a May 13 appearance in Madison Square Garden.

Table Tennis Titles to Be Decided Here

Provincial table tennis championships will be decided at the Crystal Garden from March 6 to 9. It was announced yesterday by officials of Victoria and District Table Tennis Association. All entries must be in the hands of Secretary Thelma Brown by Monday, March 4.

Play-offs continued for the club team titles with Macdonald Electric and Aces winning their way into the final by scoring victories over Robinson's Grocery and Gonzales, respectively.

Macdonalds and Robinsons engaged in a thrilling battle before the decision went home to the former by a 37-35 count after a tense match. Robinsons won the first set, 20-16, but Eddie Sced, playing in his best form of the season, led the eventual winners in their comeback as they overcame the early lead set up by their opponents.

Eric Walker set the pace for the Aces along with Charlie Ngai as they took the measure of Gonzales, 43-29, in the other semi-final. Ruth Payne, Western Canadian women's singles, titleholder, was best for the losers.

First match of the final play-off will take place at the Crystal Garden on Monday evening, with the final match to be held the following Monday.

Teams and scores follow:

Macdonalds—E. Sced 10, T. Derry 5, T. Brown 4, W. Browne-Cave 10, doubles 2. Total, 37.

Willie Pep Scores Second Round K.O.

Jimmy McCallister, Speedy Baltimore Negro, Is Latest Victim of Featherweight King

NEW YORK, March 1 (AP). — Walloping Willie Pep, owner of half the world's featherweight championship, cleared the slate on one of the two non-winning fights of his career tonight by knocking out Jimmy McCallister, speedy Baltimore negro, in the second round of a scheduled 10-rounder in Madison Square Garden. Pep weighed 129½; McCallister 128.

Recognized as titleholder in New York, Connecticut, Pennsylvania and New Jersey, the Hartford, Conn., cloutet caught up with McCallister late in the second heat, after being outslugged in the first, and put him away in two minutes, 44 seconds.

A crowd of some 13,000 turned out to see what was to have been a title affair between Pep and Sal Bartola, N.B.A. champion. Bartola was forced to bow out because of illness and the Baltimore fighter, who had previously held Pep to a draw in his home town, was substituted. Pep's title was not at stake.

A 2-1 underdog in the betting before the fight, the speedy McCallister opened fast and it looked as if he might make it tough for the titleholder as he outslugged Pep and took the first round in easy fashion.

Brimming with confidence, McCallister opened up again in the second but found the elusive Pep a difficult target.

A ripping right cross started the Baltimore negro on the way. As he back-pedalled out of danger into Pep's corner, Willie connected with a right to the body and Jimmy started to sag. As McCallister started down, Pep fired a crushing left hook to the body and it was all over. McCallister rolled halfway under the bottom ropes and, unconscious and flat on his back, was counted out by Referee Johnny Burns.

Making the 95th start of his career, the Connecticut Italian had one of his quicker night's work. He was particularly anxious to square accounts with the Marylander, who had held him to a draw December 13 in Baltimore. Except for that eventstandoff, and a decision he once dropped to former lightweight champion Sammy Angott, Pep has an all-winning record.

Government Lacks Homes for Couples

Replying to a question by E. E. Winch (C.C.F., Burnaby) Hon. G. S. Pearson, Provincial Secretary, has told the Legislature that there is no government institution for the care of dependent married couples as couples.

Mr. Winch wanted to know in how many cases, if any, aged husbands and wives were cared for in Government operated or supported institutions; whether they were being careful for separately or in accommodation for married couples; and whether there was accommodation in any government institution for the joint care of dependent married couples.

"At times married couples may possibly be patients in government institutions at the same time, and in certain institutions recipients of grants from the Government it may happen that married couples are accommodated," Mr. Pearson replied.

According to Culbertson - - - - -

South's bidding in today's deal was far less imaginative than it should have been, but he was fortunate in the bungling defence that was waged against his bad contract.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♥	Pass	2 ♥	2 ♠
4 ♥	Pass	Pass	Pass

South, in jumping to four hearts, was guilty of the same wishful thinking that motivates so many players, near-experts included, in situations of this general type. He chose to believe that North's single raise guaranteed four trumps, and therefore that a heart contract would be quite satisfactory, despite the imminent forcing of the closed hand on spade leads.

Actually, as may be observed, North's hand was a little too weak for a two-over-one diamond response, and the distribution was not right for one no trump. Thus North had taken the quite legitimate action of raising with less than "adequate" support—an action that is often the least of evils. North was right in feeling that his club strength and doubleton spade, to say nothing of the possible diamond value, compensated for the lack of an honor in the heart suit—and certainly he was bidding weakly in giving only a single raise.

South should have bid three clubs, or even three diamonds, making an obvious inquiry about North's real support for hearts. Five diamonds was the right contract.

However, West was kind at four hearts. He led the spade five. East won and continued the suit. South ruffed, went to dummy with a club, and finessed in trumps. West won and led back a club. This was taken in dummy, then declarer finessed for the diamond king and picked up that card. He drew one more round of trumps, then ran diamonds. West ruffed immediately and returned a club. South won, drew West's last trump, and could claim the contract.

If West, sizing up the situation properly, had discarded a club on the third diamond, South's position would have been hopeless.

London Market

LONDON, March 1 (Reuters) — Brisk buying enlivened the stock market today, a reversal of the usual dull week-ending dealings.

Gold shares got away to a good start on buying from the Cape and the pace of dealings gained momentum as the day progressed. Diamonds and coppers also were in demand early but fell away toward the close.

The gilt-edged market showed exceptional strength and, although this largely was due to professional dealings, there was a noticeable increase of public interest.

Industrials were helped and store shares were outstanding.

Toronto Stocks

TORONTO, March 1 (CP).—Stocks gathered strength in today's Toronto Exchange session and closing prices were around top for the day. Industrial and gold groups netted substantial index gains. Trading speeded and volume was around 1,500,000 shares.

Negus featured action in the gold list, changing hands in volume of about 60,000 shares on a gain of about 35 cents. Aubelle moved in quantity and a gain of a few cents. Conwest gained 15 cents in active trading, Hedley-Mascot advanced 40 cents or more. Fractions were added by Lakeshore and Kerr-Addison.

Noranda, up 1 3-4 to 67 had the widest gain in the base metal group.

The market was stronger in industrial section for utilities, foods, papers, steels and building stocks. Textiles also had a margin of gains over losses.

Western oils were in dull trade at minor gains for British-Dominion, Calgary-Edmonton and Home. Anglo-Canadian lost 6 and Foothills 5.

Boat Sinks But Indian Rescued

Dick Mountain, 56, was rescued by a passing fishboat when his own 30-foot gill-netter foundered in Queen Charolette Sound near Allison Harbor last Monday, according to a report received by B.C. Police headquarters here yesterday.

Mountain, an Indian, father of seven children, left Alert Bay for Cohoe Bay near Blunden Harbor, where he is employed by the Dorman Logging Company.

He did not reach his destination and a search was made by police, aided by an aircraft from Alert Bay. Mountain, however, turned up at Alert Bay aboard the boat that had picked him up when his own sank.

Victoria Aged Pensioners' Association will be held at the First Baptist Church on Tuesday at 2:30 p.m. Mrs. Rose Palmer has arranged to give a show of motion pictures.

Direct $2,000 Campaign to Assist "Blue Baby"

—Colonist Photo.

These are the members of the Victoria Lions Club who directed and are bringing to a successful conclusion the drive for $2,000 to send "Janet"—young daughter of a Victoria couple—to Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore, for an operation for a heart ailment she has had since birth. From left to right, the committee members pictured are: Jack Seedhouse; John Priestley, chairman; Ernest Emery, president of the service club, and Alec Henderson. Dr. W. A. Trenholme was also a member of the committee.

Campbell River May Become New Village

Campbell River Board of Trade is collecting information on the possibility of incorporating Campbell River and Campbellton as a village municipality, but so far has not communicated with B. C. Bracewell, deputy minister of municipal affairs, it was learned yesterday.

Two by-laws passed by commissioners of the newly-incorporated village of Comox have been approved by the Department of Municipal Affairs. One covers the collection of trades licences and the other empowers commissioners to borrow $1,500 until funds are received from general taxation.

Blue Baby to Have Operation; Lions Fund Will Be Surpassed

Victoria's "blue baby" will go to Baltimore for a delicate heart operation which may mean she will enjoy a normal life.

Five-and-a-half-year-old "Janet"—daughter of a Victoria couple—will go to the famous Johns Hopkins Hospital because the people of Greater Victoria have been generous and kind.

Weather Forecasts

West and North Coast — Overcast with continuous rain Saturday afternoon; fresh southerly winds, becoming strong southerly; continued mild.

Vancouver—Cloudy with showers.

John Priestley, chairman of a special committee of the Victoria Lions Club, sponsors of the campaign to raise $2,000 for the little girl, reported yesterday at a meeting of the club that by today the objective would be reached and passed. At noon yesterday subscriptions were nearing $1,900.

Plans have been made whereby Janet and her parents will journey to the American hospital within a short time. Janet will undergo her operation in less than two months from today.

Mr. Priestley, on behalf of his committee and the membership of the Lions Club, thanked the Lions Ladies' Auxiliary, members of the Royal Jubilee Alumni, business firms, radio station CJVI, and individuals of the city who had assisted with "whole hearted co-operation and enthusiasm", to make the campaign a success.

ANOTHER "JANET" SENDS $1 TO HELP

Among the donations received by the committee was one accompanied by a brief note, printed by a young hand, which read:

"Dear Janet: My name is Janet, and I am five too. I want you to have this money out of my money box to help you to be well and strong like me. Lots of love, from Janet Mary Cox."

This was one of hundreds of letters and notes accompanying small and large donations from Victorians and Islanders. A Duncan couple sent $5, "in memory of our little girl." Their young daughter passed away recently due to a heart ailment.

Large sums were raised for the fund by raffling nylons, and one lady presented a rare Chinese cloak for the Lions Club to sell. At yesterday's meeting, members of the service club raised an additional $40 through a nylon raffle.

With Mr. Priestley on the committee were: Jack Seedhouse, Ernest Emery, president of the club; Alec Henderson, and Dr. W. A. Trenholme.

Group Inspects Airport Site

In a cold drizzle yesterday morning a motor caravan of members of the intermunicipal airport committee, Saanich councillors and ratepayers, and a representative of ex-airmen toured the projected site of Gordon Head airport.

Two Saanich ratepayers warmed the atmosphere during the hour-long tour by reated expressions of opposition to the plan. Other ratepayers, together with members of the airport committee and Saanich councillors, were either definitely in favor of the proposal or open to conviction if it could be shown that Gordon Head was the only suitable site.

The tour was arranged jointly by Alderman B. J. Gadsden, chairman of the intermunicipal airport committee, and Reeve A. G. Lambrick, to clear up misunderstandings regarding the amount of property involved.

N. C. Bell, of Ward 3 Ratepayers' Association, said T.C.A. men had told him they wouldn't land in the Gordon Head district under any circumstances.

Gerry Bell, an ex-R.C.A.F. pilot in the group, said the heaviest laden planes overseas could take off in 3,000 feet, and the projected runways at Gordon Head, being 4,250 feet long, would allow a margin of over 1,200 feet.

MISUNDERSTANDING ON PROPERTY INVOLVED

Saanich councillors were unanimous in stating there had been many misunderstandings as to the amount of territory involved.

Councillor Robert Noble said he was glad some of the misunderstandings had been cleared up.

Archie Wills, representing the Chamber of Commerce, assured the ratepayers that Gordon Head was the only site for an airport near Victoria.

Councillor William Kersey, Saanich, said if it could be shown that it was the only site he would support the proposal.

As a result of the tour and discussion, Alderman B. J. Gadsden agreed to make available copies of reports by experts who have made surveys here, to produce a map showing the maximum amount of land involved, and to call a meeting of the intermunicipal airport committee next week to go over the whole issue.

City and District

Improvement District—Incorporation of Redroofs waterworks district near Sechelt into an improvement district under the Water Act has been approved by order in council.

City By-Law Approved—Victoria's Waterworks Loan By-Law, 1945, passed by the City Council on December 19, has been formally approved by provincial order in council.

Commissioner to Retire—Henry Rive, dairy commissioner in the livestock branch of the Provincial Department of Agriculture, will retire on superannuation on March 31. An order in council approving his retirement was handed down yesterday.

Island Scenery—Hobart, Tasmania, was compared with Vancouver Island by John Cornell in an article headed "Down Under" in a recent edition of The Los Angeles Examiner. Mr. Cornell wrote: "A glance at your map will reveal that Tasmania is in a latitude corresponding to that of New England or the Pacific Northwest. The approach to Hobart reminds you of the sea-blue and fir-green vistas of Vancouver Island and Puget Sound."

Lions to Sponsor May Queen Contest

One of the features of the May 24 three-day celebration in Victoria will be the May Queen contest.

Members of the Victoria Lions Club will conduct this phase of the program, and at a meeting held yesterday appointed Jack Kendrick as chairman of a special committee to make arrangements.

Request that the service club handle this part of the program was received from Frank Hunter, chairman of all May 24 committees. The celebration is to be sponsored by the Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce. Recently the City Council set aside $2,500 for the ceremony.

Ernest Emery, president of the Lions Club, told members that the ladies' auxiliary to the club would also be able to take an active part in the May Queen contest.

In a discussion it was noted the club was also working on plans to hold a "jalopy" derby at the Willows on July 1.

May Resume Tugboat Races Here May 24

Tewboat and yacht races may be resumed as part of the May 24 celebration if the plans of Capt. A. di Castri, manager of Victoria Harbor Marine Repair Station, materialize.

Races between fishing vessels and packers are also being considered. Capt. di Castri will seek support and co-operation of Puget Sound yacht clubs.

Races of this nature were held here annually before the war, between Trial Island and the breakwater. Burrard Chief, of Island Tug & Barge Ltd., won the last tugboat race.

BUILDERS TO MEET

Members of th Victoria Builders' Exchange will hold a special meeting Monday, March 11, at the Empress Hotel, it was reported by Victor Leigh, president. It will be a dinner-meeting.

Urges Bar Japanese From Coast

British Columbia's Japanese question made its first appearance in the Throne Speech debate in the Legislature yesterday afternoon when A. C. Hope, Coalition member for Delta, recommended that the Federal Government should set up a military zone on the Pacific Coast to prohibit leasing or buying of land by Japanese.

Stating that he was not raising the subject to create racial hatred, Mr. Hope asserted that in the past Japanese had made no attempt to become good citizens.

He regarded as too broad the claim that Japanese should be shipped back to Japan forever, and suggested that as a result of General MacArthur's efforts to "revamp" the constitution of Japan, its people in another generation might be ready to work in with the rest of the world. Until that state of affairs could be reached, he urged strictest control of Japanese in coastal British Columbia.

Touching on the problems of Delta farmers, Mr. Hope said one of the reasons for a butter shortage in Canada today was that butterfat going into the production of butter was bringing about 38 cents a pound, while butterfat going into the fluid market brought about 70 cents a pound.

Farmers were concerned over what was going to happen when subsidies were taken off and exports to Europe began to shrink, the Delta member went on. The only solution was the establishment of floor prices.

In dealing with price floors, there were three points that should not be forgotten, he emphasized: Adequate supplies for consumers at all times, a stabilized price for primary producers, and the encouragement of private initiative supported and regulated by Government action.

Mr. Hope pressed for establishment of an experimental farm in the Fraser Valley, elimination of Pattullo Bridge tolls, solution of the Ladner ferry problem by erecting a bridge to Deas Island or using a larger ferry, and humane consideration for the problems of ex-servicemen and women in re-establishment.

House Committees Get Under Way

Standing committees of the Legislature are making an early start with their work for this session.

The committee on agriculture, under the chairmanship of Louis LeBourdais (Cln., Cariboo), first to get under way, held an organization meeting yesterday morning, at which Commander C. T. Beard (Cln., Esquimalt) was appointed secretary.

Next Friday the agriculture committee will meet W. MacGillivray, chairman of the land clearing board, and members of the agricultural production committee, and on March 11, the committee will hear a delegation from the advisory board of the Farmers' Institute.

Next of the committees to meet will be the committee on social welfare and education, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Nancy Hodges (Cln., Victoria). This committee will hold an organization meeting on Monday morning.

First meeting of the public accounts committee will be held Tuesday morning.

D. M. W. GRUBB

Until his retirement, Mr. Benson had the longest service in the entire Imperial Bank staff. He has been manager here since 1930. For 19 years previous he was manager at Nelson. He served with other branches in Western Canada, including Edmonton and Regina.

Mr. Grubb, who was educated at University School and Victoria High School, joined the staff of the bank here in 1916. In 1920 he moved to Winnipeg, and later to Regina and to Edmonton, where he was assistant manager of the main Edmonton office until he joined the Edmonton Fusiliers in 1942.

Transferred to military government service, he went overseas as a military government officer and served for ten months in Germany and eight months in France, Belgium and Holland. He received his discharge one month ago.

Month's Sunshine Far Below Normal

"Never saw such a dull Winter," the stock apology for the city's weather which loyal Victorians utter when a visitor is within earshot, may be somewhere near the truth this year. According to the February report of the Dominion Meteorological Observatory the month's total sunshine of 69 hours was 28 hours below normal.

The mean temperature of 43 degrees, however, was two degrees above normal, and total precipitation for January and February combined, 7.21 inches, was .05 below normal.

Maximum temperature for February was 54, on February 21. Minimum was 31, on February 4. Minimum on the grass was 27, on February 11.

Three-quarters of an inch of rain, which fell steadily through the night, heralded the coming of March yesterday.

Milk Production Subject of Film

Sponsored by Palm Dairies, Ltd., a motion picture film, "The Science of Milk Production," with commentary by Dr. W. E. Peterson, professor of dairy husbandry, was shown to farmers at a meeting in the Experimental Farm hall, Saanichton, Thursday night.

Dr. Peterson, outstanding physiologist, demonstrated his years of experiment and study, th outlining, with the aid of the film, the manner in which the cow makes milk; machinery of the milk plant, effect of excitement on production, importance of diet and many other factors connected with dairy farming.

Vancouver to Discuss Charter Amendments

VANCOUVER, March 1 (CP)—City council representatives will go to Victoria to discuss the city's proposed charter amendment with Vancouver M.L.A.'s before these amendments are considered by the Legislature.

A conference between the M.L.A.'s and civic representatives originally scheduled to take place in Vancouver next Saturday has been canceled because some of the M.L.A.'s could not attend.

Says Extravagant Statements Made on Water Chlorination

Referring to the water issue as "rather a thorny question," Dr. J. L. Murray Anderson, city health department, told the Victoria Lions Club yesterday that "many extravagant statements have been made by a number of unofficial people." He spoke at the club's luncheon at the Empress Hotel.

His topic, "What to Drink," was based on official views and findings, he stated. "Every citizen," he claimed, "is entitled to turn on his water tap without first wondering, 'Is this water good or not?'"

Apart from whether or not the water produced good soap-suds, or had any other characteristics, the most important consideration was whether that water was good from a health standpoint, the speaker maintained.

Two methods of water examination were described. They were: A sanitary survey of watershed areas; and water analysis. Speaking of Victoria's two watersheds, Dr. Anderson pointed out that both were traveled by humans, and therefore there existed a potential danger of contamination of the water supply.

"Laboratory tests," the speaker claimed, "cannot always be relied upon."

A chart showed that since Victoria's water supply had been chlorinated, there had been practically no signs of contamination. Cost of chlorination for this city was only ten cents per person annually, the doctor stated. Other methods of water purification would be more costly, he concluded.

Hospital Purchase At Alberni Approved

City of Port Alberni's move to ease the local housing shortage by purchase of the former military hospital there to accommodate employees of Bloedel, Stewart & Welch, Ltd., was formally approved in a provincial order in council handed down yesterday.

The city will pay War Assets Corporation $10,851 for the hospital land and buildings, and will be recompensed by the company for the part it takes over.

Veterans' Credit Payments Over $2,000,000 This Month

Re-establishment credit payments to veterans in British Columbia passed the $2,000,000 mark in February, according to figures released yesterday by the Department of Veterans' Affairs in Vancouver.

A total of $321,544 was paid to 1,357 ex-servicemen and women during the month, bringing the total value of applications paid to date in the province to $2,142,047. Nearly 14,000 applications for use of the credit have been received since the department began operation in Vancouver.

Reflecting similar percentages across the Dominion, a breakdown of the British Columbia figure shows that 35 per cent has been spent on the acquisition of new homes, while 28 per cent has gone for the purchase of furniture. Fourteen per cent has been used for the repair or modernization of houses already owned by veterans, and 1 per cent has helped pay off home mortgages.

Working capital for businesses claimed 10 per cent of the credit, and the purchase of tools of equipment 9 per cent. Only 2 per cent was used for the actual purchase of businesses, and 1 per cent to pay for veterans' insurance.

The most popular single purpose for which the credit may be used is the purchase of furniture, 6,075 applications having been received to date.
